

Craig Pontius Wins Bob Bowsher Award

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Craig Pontius, Teays Valley High School senior is the 1974 winner of the Bob Bowsher Award, presented annually by The Herald to the outstanding senior basketball player in Pickaway County.

CRAIG PONTIUS

The Bob Bowsher Memorial Award was named in honor of a Circleville

High School athlete who gave his life for his country in Europe during World War II.

Bowsher was a leader and a true team player as well as a fine athlete at Circleville. Originated in 1948, the first award was presented to James Picklesimer, who starred at Williamsport High School. Last year's recipient of the award was Tom Sykes of Logan Elm High School.

For three years, the blond, left-handed, sharpshooter has been thrilling Teays Valley fans and driving the opposition wild with his radar-fix jump shots and quickness on his driving layups which kept the lights burning on the scoreboards.

Always a team player, Craig was a ball-hawk on defense and uncanny with his passes to set up buckets for the Vikings.

Whenever the Vikings needed the key basket or big play, it was usually Craig who was elected to get the job done.

An interesting sidelight to this year's award is the fact that for the first time in the history of the Bowsher Award, it has gone to the son of a former award winner.

Craig's dad, Bob, was the second winner of the coveted trophy when he gained the recognition as a member of the Walnut team in 1949.

Another highlight in the presentation this year is that Craig's coach, Bob Hoover, was also a Bowsher trophy winner in 1960 when he starred on the hardwoods for the Ashville team.

Honors have followed Craig around like a hungry puppy at mealtime. In his sophomore and junior years he led the Vikings in free throws and averaged 9.8 points a game.

As a junior, Craig began to come into his own with an 18 point game average. His performance earned him an All-Metro League berth, first team All-Central district honors and honorable mention on the All-State squad. He was a contributing factor in the Vikings being District runner-up.

He continued his fine work in his senior year, once again leading the Vikings to District runner-up honors. He picked up another first team berth on the All-Metropolitan League squad and was a repeater on the All-District star squad.

He compiled a 15.4 point average with a 50.2 shooting percentage in regular season play this year and once again was the Vikings playmaker.

When tournament time rolled around, Craig was ready and in four contests scorched the nets for an average of 20.5 points per game.

An all-around young man, Craig is a fine student and a school leader. He was junior class president and a member of the Dramatic, Spanish, Science and 4-H Clubs.

An eight-year member of the 4-H Club, he has held the offices of president, secretary and treasurer. He is also a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church.

He was a member of the Teays Valley golf team in his sophomore year, track team in his junior year and a three-year member of the cross-country team.

Craig plans to attend college after graduation and go into the field of agriculture.

He is the son of Robert and Patricia Pontius, Route 1, Ashville, and has two brothers, Rick and Tom.

Winners of the Bob Bowsher Award beginning in 1948 have been: James

Arab Nations Want Better U.S. Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's Middle East diplomacy has led to a growing desire by Arab states for better relations with the United States, Jordan's King Hussein says.

Hussein said in an interview Thursday that there is a "definite change" in Arab feelings toward the United States.

"It is the result of the steps taken by your government, especially by Dr. Kissinger. There is movement now, instead of the lack of it, which was the case for a very long time," Hussein said.

Hussein was interviewed immediately after his last conference with Kissinger and Joseph J. Sisco, the undersecretary for political affairs. The king undergoes his yearly medical check today at Walter Reed Army Hospital and plans to leave Washington Saturday.

"The United States has contributed significantly to whatever progress has been already made. Dr. Kissinger's dedication to the cause of peace produced encouraging results, and though still much has to be done, I am optimistic," Hussein said.

As a result of the American diplomacy, Arabs everywhere believe "you are really evenhanded" and there is a "growing desire in the entire area to have better relations" with this country, the king said.

Meanwhile, Kissinger told newsmen that peace in the Middle East is being pursued on the most expeditious timetable because "it is in our national interest."

The secretary said that an agreement for disengagement of Syrian and Israeli forces in the Golan Heights area is this nation's top priority objective in the Middle East.

Kissinger spoke to newsmen after a 2½-hour closed meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said Kissinger told the committee that Syria-Israeli differences "are the most difficult" with which he has had to deal.

He said Kissinger would not make any hard predictions, but that he remains "cautiously optimistic."

Oil Shortage Portent Of Future

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Maybe the oil embargo is being lifted and maybe in a few weeks the atmosphere of panic at the filling stations will vanish, but there's a lot else to worry about.

If oil were the only major concern, there might be an excuse to relax and breathe easy. The oil crisis, in fact, may have been just a taste of things to come.

There's a prospect ahead of a long-lasting era of economic instability in the industrial world that could lead to highly unpleasant consequences.

The energy troubles the industrial nations have been experiencing cannot all, by any means, be laid at the door of the Arab embargo. But oil is only one aspect of a developing and worrisome picture.

In the offing are signs of another crunch, this one in raw materials. On top of that, there are likely to be enormous food problems in the years ahead.

The performance of the OPEC — Organization of Petroleum Exporting

Countries — in squeezing the powerful nations has generated excited thinking in so-called "developing" countries. They see that raw material is power.

Will there be more "OPEC's"? The "poor" countries are becoming acutely aware of their potential. Metals and minerals vital to the Western world's economic health lie under the ground of many a poor country.

A highly placed Washington expert says that six of the 13 metals most essential to American economic health are in short supply and must be more than 50 per cent imported. In another 10 years, that will be the case in nine of them.

The United Nations is about to hold a session on the whole picture of raw materials and that could quicken an urge to make big nations dance the little nations' tune.

Is there new crisis ahead? The concerned experts of the Club of Rome, an international study group, think so. Their February "Salzburg statement" had this to say:

"The fact is that the industrial societies operate wastefully and stimulate unnecessary consumption.... World society is torn asunder by growing and intolerable disparities in living standards and opportunities.... Hundreds of millions of men and women live marginal lives.... Nature is pillaged and poisoned for the benefit of the few....

"The present crisis is much deeper than an oil or energy or a food crisis. Its negative effects will have many and diverse repercussions throughout the entire world...."

An era of instability can be generated by an ever-upward push on living costs. Oil, just as an example, pushed up costs of manufacturing, food and services. Along come poor countries with new ideas about raw materials and another push upward is in prospect.

Rain, Snow Cover Parts Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain and snow fell over scattered areas from the Pacific Northwest to the Great Lakes region today while thunderstorms rumbled over southern Texas.

Elsewhere, fair and calm weather was the rule.

Travel and livestock advisories were posted for northeastern Montana, where near blizzard conditions were reported Thursday night. Snowfall was light but strong winds caused blowing and drifting.

Wisconsin was alerted to expect up to 3 inches of snow in some sections. An inch whitened Rochester, Minn., and Williston, N.D., during the night. Snow squalls powered by wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour swept North Dakota late Thursday. Drifts up to 3 feet deep were common in northwestern areas of the state.

Severe thunderstorms lashed southern Texas late Thursday night. Kingsville, Tex., was hard hit with ping-pong-size hail, damaging winds and heavy rains.

Weather

Occasional rain likely today and tonight. High today, mid 40s. Low tonight, upper 30s. Chance of showers likely Saturday, high, low 40s. Probability of precipitation, 60 per cent today, 70 per cent tonight and 50 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Thursday were: high, 49; low, 30.

Gasoline Taxes Won't Rise Richley Declares

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's transportation chief predicted today no increase in the state gasoline tax in 1974 even though his department will lose more than $40 million this year as a result of the energy crisis.

"I don't anticipate any increase to raise gasoline tax revenues," said J. Phillip Richley, director of the Ohio Department of Transportation. "Gov. Gilligan has said he is not interested in raising taxes at all."

However, Richley said, "If we reach a point where federal dollars are wasted or lost, we'll have to decide through the governor and the General Assembly.

"So far, we have been able to match federal funds, and we're not at the point where we will lose any federal dollars."

But he added, "If the situation continues through this year, we will be in serious trouble."

The state levies seven cents tax on a gallon of gasoline, and the federal

St. Pat's Day Message Given

government four cents. An additional cent would raise about $55 million annually, Richley said.

The state last increased its gasoline tax in 1959.

Richley also revealed the latest gasoline tax figures for January showing Ohio fell $3.3 million below the anticipated $32 million. Since last November, the state has lost a total of $5.55 million in revenue used for highway construction and repair.

He said Ohioans used 26 million gallons less gasoline in January than a year ago because of the energy crisis. Less gasoline sold at the pump means fewer dollars for the state and local governments.

Richley said he expects gasoline tax revenues to get worse as the year proceeds. "I expect February to be worse than January," he said.

Gasoline receipts dropped by 10.5 per cent in January, and Richley predicted the figure might reach 20 per cent in July and August.

However, he said the federal government has projected that gasoline tax revenues will be down 15 per cent through the rest of the decade. "They don't expect it to be any different if the Arab boycott is lifted," he added.

To cope with the lack of revenue, Richley said he has placed priorities on interstate projects which receive 90 per cent federal money, emergency federal projects which attract 100 per cent support, emergency state programs with 100 per cent state funding and Issue 1 projects that require 100 per cent local money.

68-Year-Old Man Injured In Shooting

A sixty-eight-year-old Pickaway County resident was treated and released from Berger Hospital for superficial gunshot wounds received at his home, 8:31 p.m. Thursday.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, Kermit Thomas, Route 2, went to see who was at the back door of his residence when a male subject fired a shot at the house.

Authorities believe a 410 shotgun was used. Standing approximately 10 feet away, the unknown assailant, shot once, striking Thomas in the right side of the chest.

Thomas stated he could not identify the person, but felt it was the same person who turned around in his driveway earlier that evening.

Mrs. Thomas notified Sheriff's Authorities when the shooting occurred.

Grand Ole Opry Moving From Old Auditorium

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — American music walks away from a childhood homeplace tonight. The Grand Ole Opry is moving.

The Ryman Auditorium walls, echoing fiddles and banjos since 1942, will hear no more "Wabash Cannonballs" from Roy Acuff, no more of Minnie Pearl's "Howdees."

"Curtains" at the Ryman tonight is just that: the last show in the barny, brick building that has been home for the Opry most of its life.

In these last few weeks, nostalgia has crept into local music circles like cold air seeps into the Ryman in winter.

Last Saturday night, Minnie Pearl broke into tears on stage just after finishing the last bars of "Jealous Hearted Me." On the narrow wooden stage, she clutched her price-tagged bonnet to her face before the tears ended.

"I'm just a little sad because I'm saying goodbye to a lot of spooks and

Hundreds Seeking Kidnaped Little Girl

SEATTLE (AP) — Few know little Heidi, but seldom a day goes by that hundreds of shoppers, working people and schoolchildren don't watch for her face in the crowd.

The 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson has been missing since Feb. 21 and police say they are sure she was abducted.

"I used to tell her, every night when I tucked her in, 'Remember Heidi, whatever happens, mommy and daddy always love you,'" said the mother of

ROUNDTOWN

DID you know that Memorial Hall was erected in 1890-91 jointly by the City of Circleville and the Soldiers' Monumental Association of Pickaway County ... A contract was drawn up between the city and the library board and the Soldiers' Association and signed on May 19, 1890 ... The term of lease for the library and armory was for 99 years, with renewal privilege forever ... The low bid for the building contract was $27,838 and the site cost $5,500 ... The public library opened there on Sept. 12, 1892.

shadows," she said later.

She and the other 61 Opry members will be saying hello to $15 million worth of glass, carpets, air-conditioning and electronics. Officials of the Opry and some of the stars, notably Acuff, have insisted the new Opry house will maintain the authenticity and casual air of the Ryman.

Built as a church in 1890, the rambling, gothic structure has nearly no space for dressing rooms, few production facilities and too little space for the crowds who line up for tickets on Friday and Saturday nights.

The new Opry house will increase seating capacity by more than one third and provide space for recording equipment and dressing rooms for the Opry cast. WSM radio, which has broadcast America's oldest live radio show since the late 1920s, and the National Life and Accident Co., owners of the Opry, bill the new structure as the world's largest broadcasting studio.

The caring and concern are not the Petersons' alone. Thousands of volunteer housewives, students, boy scouts, merchants and laborers have mobilized in the search. Heidi has become almost a family member in many households.

An initial and massive search turned up no sign of her. Undaunted, hundreds of housewives began covering the city with posters bearing the picture and description of the girl.

Nearly 50,000 leaflets have been distributed and the search is spreading to other towns and cities of the Northwest and the nation.

"There's probably been more response on this case than any other I've been on in 16 years," said police Detective Bill Baughman, one of two officers assigned full time to Heidi's case.

In schools, children take a lesson to be careful of strangers and offer a prayer for Heidi. Police, merchants and shoppers spent an afternoon downtown hunting without results after a man said he thought he had seen the girl with an older woman.

At the Peterson home, overlooking the boats on Portage Bay and with the Cascade Mountains in the background, the waiting is hard. The balding Peterson, carpenter by trade and Swedish by descent, holds his wife's hand. She is 36 and wonders if it isn't harder because she became a mother relatively late.

Mrs. Peterson last saw her daughter the afternoon of Feb. 21 as Heidi and brother Carl, 2½, played in front of the modest family home. Mrs. Peterson left for a short trip to the grocery store.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took some broad losses today under the pressure of rising short-term interest rates and some uncertainties in the Arab oil picture.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.39 at 884.39, and declining issues held a lead of better than 2 to 1 over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

"The market is reacting to the recent rise in short-term interest rates and a little disappointment that the oil situation isn't more clear," said John Doherty at Blyth Eastman Dillon.

Alpha Portland Industries was the Big Board's most-active stock, unchanged at 16½, after a 320,100-share block trade. Power Test Corp. said it had bought 320,000 shares, increasing its holdings in the company to slightly more than 20 per cent.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was down .47 to 101.54.

Local Girl Recommends Career In Air Force

Bambi Blackard Hunter, a 1973 graduate of Teays Valley High School, is an informative specialist with the United States Air Force. As a journalist with the women in the Air Force, Ms. Hunter is called upon by various clubs and groups in the Ft. Worth Area where she is stationed to make speeches on the Air Force.

She recently wrote a speech on the career possibilities of the WAF.

Push Ohio Site For U.S. Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to establish a national transportation research center in Ohio was presented Thursday to a Senate Public Works subcommittee.

The U. S. Department of Transportation recommended leasing a building from Ohio to house the center. The center would test highway vehicles and parts to make sure they comply with federal safety standards.

The center would adjoin Ohio's Transportation Research Center at East Liberty.

Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, told the subcommittee the state facility, now 70 per cent complete, is "the most comprehensive and largest vehicle testing facility in the world" and that it made good sense to locate the national center there.

The federal government originally had planned to build such a facility itself, and in 1971 Congress appropriated $9.6 million to get the project under way.

But government officials testified that leasing the building from Ohio would save taxpayers money in the long run.

Metzenbaum Poll Percentage Small

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum Thursday released results of a poll which asked his Ohio constituents whether President Nixon should resign.

Metzenbaum said the poll was included in a news letter sent to 500,000 Ohioans. He said 38,000 persons replied.

But Metzenbaum said only 1,000 of the replies were used to formulate the percentage responses. No explanation was offered as to why the other replies were not tallied.

"This poll shows the people of Ohio — and they reflect the views of people everywhere — have lost faith in Mr. Nixon's ability to govern," Metzenbaum told a news conference.

Metzenbaum said the poll shows that 47.4 per cent of those tallied believe President Nixon should be impeached or should resign. A second group, 28.7 per cent, wants continued investigation and more facts, while 23.9 per cent thought the issue should be dropped and investigations ended.

Although 52.6 per cent of those polled favored more investigation or an end to the matter Metzenbaum said he thought the 47.4 per cent was more significant.

Metzenbaum was appointed to his present term in January by Gov. John Gilligan to replace Sen. William B. Saxbe, who resigned to become attorney general.

Metzenbaum is now running for the Democratic nomination for a full term against former astronaut John Glenn.

Through her career, she has had the opportunity of meeting new people, traveling, and as she puts it in her speeches, "becoming a more aware person."

While at Teays Valley, Ms. Hunter was active in girls' track, intramurals, chorus, dramatic club, FHA, and the newspaper staff. She says she found herself at loose ends after graduation. Both her parents were affiliated with the Air Force and she became interested.

In her talks, Ms. Hunter traces the history of the WAF division of the armed forces from its early stages during World War II through its official founding in 1948 with the passage of the Women's Armed Services Integration Act. Army women who served the air force division during the war were nicknamed "AIR-WAC'S"

Ms Hunter urges young women who have found themselves also at loose ends to consider the Air Force. The possibilities of the WAF's are virtually unlimited and like this young woman, many are attracted because although they have a career in mind, they cannot go to college for such a career.

Three Injured In City Mishap

Three persons were injured and the driver cited in an accident 6:15 p.m. Thursday at the Mundy Pontiac lot on the Lancaster Pike.

According to the report of Ptl. James Ford, Rickey J. Danner, 19, Route 2, Laurelville, was turning onto the Lancaster Pike from E. Main St. and swerved his car to the right to avoid a line of stopped traffic.

His auto struck a car on the Mundy lot knocking it into another vehicle on the lot.

Danner and two passengers in his car, Robert Danner, 31, Laurelville, and Robert Covell, 42, Route 1, Stoutsville, all claimed injuries in the mishap.

Ford cited Rickey Danner for failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead.

Soviet Actions Raise Doubts About Detente

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Russians say directly to Arabs is a long distance from sounding friendly to the United States as the Americans quest for Middle East settlement. It sounds almost as if the Russians fear there might be a reasonable settlement and feel impelled to head it off. Second, on the international Communist scene — What is being said to parties around the world is that peaceful coexistence and detente are designed to hasten the triumph of Communist revolution and that Moscow remains faithful to that world goal. Third, what's being said at home — this suggests that some highly influential elements have doubts about the wisdom of the policy being pursued by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Communist party general secretary. Such people, notably the high military brass, seem to fear he'll give away some valuable advantage in return for prospective trade benefits.

Moscow propaganda beamed in abundance to the Arabs sounds unrelievedly hostile to American efforts to bring about Middle East stability. The reader gets the impression that Moscow at once fears there will be a settlement and fears there won't be.

Middle East turbulence can threaten what Brezhnev hopes to gain from the detente and thus he might welcome a measure of calm. At the same time the settlement taking shape is an American one. Clearly Moscow worries about the Americans walking off with all the marbles, eroding the influence the Russians have been so carefully and expensively building for 20 years.

Moscow cheered the Arab oil boycott, warned Arabs that Israel and "forces protecting her" want to perpetuate the occupation of Arab lands, and claimed that any concessions from Washington and Jerusalem were forced upon them by a "new balance of power" brought about by Soviet policy.

David Rockefeller of Chase Manhattan Bank is extolled in one Soviet voice for espousing the idea of doing business with the Russians, but the voice that reaches Arabs blasts him as trying to impose capitalist concepts on Egypt's economy.

What does Moscow tell Communists around the world?

Typical are the assurances carried recently in a series of articles in the authoritative journal Party Life. These were deemed so important that they were broadcast in 17 Asian and European languages.

The articles angrily attacked mavericks such as those in the Spanish party who complain that Moscow, intent on Soviet state interests, is abandoning the cause of world revolution in its detente policies.

Moscow reminds them that the detente-coexistence policy was conceived as a weapon of strategy for world revolution, endorsed by a world Communist meeting in Moscow in 1969 and reaffirmed in 1971 at the 24th Soviet party congress, where the principle was stressed that detente meant sharpening, not lessening, of ideological warfare.

"In its documents, the international Communist movement has more than once qualified the policy of peaceful coexistence," said Party Life. "It has underlined that peaceful coexistence ... is a form of class struggle ... The policy of peaceful coexistence helps give impetus to the class struggle against imperialism at national and world levels."

These articles insisted that "detente brings about new and more favorable premises to intensify the struggle for unity" of Communists around the world.

And what about Soviet military leaders?

It's not unusual for the military to express reservations about policy pursued by the civilian politicians. It did so in Nikita S. Khrushchev's time and in fact represented then a force capable of tipping the political balance, first in Khrushchev's favor and finally against him.

This political potential makes the military respectfully heeded, and in the post-Stalin era — though never in Stalin's time — it has made its views clear both in its own specialized periodicals and in the party press to which it has easy access.

Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko is a recent new member of the 16-member Politburo and his presence at that pinnacle of power insures a stern military eye on any tendency of the civilians to downgrade the armed forces' importance, especially in terms of its share of the national budget.

In the military and party press Grechko and other top officers lately have been sounding as if they feared Brezhnev's policies might carry detente too far.

Wellston School Official Loses

JACKSON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County Common Pleas Court Judge Thomas Mitchell today declared void the hiring of Ralph Crabtree as business manager of the Wellston School District.

"In this case, Crabtree himself prepared the contract and it included several items of compensation and provisions never agreed to officially by the board ... which didn't take place in any open meeting," the judge declared.

A taxpayers' suit filed by William Starkey sought to oust Crabtree, who was hired at a salary of $15,498, on Jan. 12.

The hiring of Crabtree, who had been a member of the school board for two years, had been a point of contention during a teachers strike in the district last month.

Clark Gable's Son Handsome, Active

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — He will turn 13 this month, and he's like most other boys his age — hyperactive and more interested in sports than girls. He leads a normal life despite his famous name: John Clark Gable.

The boy marks his birthday March 20, celebrating it, as always, out of the public eye. That's the way his mother, Kay Williams Gable, wants it.

John Clark Gable was one of the most famous babies in Hollywood history. His father, called king of the movie world but a self-styled "lucky slob from Ohio," had been childless in four marriages. In 1955, he married Kay Williams Spreckles, who had two children by her marriage to sugar heir Adolph Spreckels.

Kay Gable became pregnant after the first two months of the marriage, but she suffered a miscarriage in the 10th week. Then in July of 1960, when he was on location for "The Misfits" in Reno, Gable learned that his wife was pregnant again.

"It's going to be a boy," he announced beamingly, and he chose the name, John Clark.

The star, who had performed some strenuous stunts for "The Misfits," was stricken with a heart attack and died at the age of 59 on Nov. 16, 1960. His son was born 124 days later.

From the beginning, Kay Gable vowed to keep her famous son out of the limelight. He has rarely been photographed, and has always attended private schools. As might be expected, he is a handsome boy, and athletic. "He likes sports, and he's very well coordinated," says his mother.

But he follows his father in being a daredevil. Gable had a passion for fast foreign cars, and he enjoyed racing his motorcycle with cronies through the streets of the San Fernando Valley late at night, reaching speeds of 100 miles per hour.

"I took John Clark's motorcycle away from him," Kay Gable, 56, said. "He was doing too many wheelies."

She referred to the cyclist's stunt of riding on the back wheel only.

Mother and son recently moved to a comfortable home in Beverly Hills after spending the boy's first dozen years at the Gable ranch on Petit Avenue in Encino. The 19-acre place with seven-bedroom house had become too big for them.

Mrs. Gable, who has not remarried, owns copies of the star's movies and sometimes runs them at home, so John Clark can observe his father's style. He is impressed, but, said his mother, shows no signs of following the Gable profession.

Drug Raids Made In Greene County

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Authorities in Greene County have arrested 35 persons on drug charges and were searching for at least 10 others in connection with county grand jury indictments.

The grand jury handed up the indictments Wednesday, and within hours sheriff's deputies arrested three persons and confiscated 40 pounds of marijuana.

Later, authorities said, about 60 officers raided homes in Xenia, Fairborn, Yellow Springs, Cedarville and Jamestown to arrest persons named in the indictments.

Steubenville Man Given Board Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Steubenville man, William Joseph Michl, has been reappointed by Gov. John J. Gilligan to the board of the Jefferson County Technical Institute District.

Gilligan also announced Thursday the reappointment of John F. Hellebush, of Cincinnati, to the Ohio Wildlife Council and Bartholomew M. Catherino of Cleveland to the Ohio Air Quality Development Authority.

On Books And Activities At The Library

This week, it is difficult to decide whether to mention books for spring or winter activities. Perhaps we can hedge, and suggest a potpourri suitable for either season.

For truly pessimistic types, we suggest "The Complete Guide to Cross-Country Skiing and Touring" by Art Takle. If the thought of alpine skiing produces a quivery feeling in your stomach, you may be interested in ski-touring. Many Americans have taken to this Scandinavian version of the sport and this book outlines basic equipment and techniques.

For the more optimistic, "Basic Boating: Piloting and Seamanship, Rev. Ed." by Howard L. Andrews provides basic instruction for small boat piloting, as well as detailed chapters on boathandling techniques and skills.

"The Glorious World of Golf" by Peter Dobereiner is not a how-to-book, but a history of the game. Golf enthusiasts will enjoy the action photos many of them in color of the golf superstars.

"How to Design, Build and Maintain Your Swimming Pool" by Stanley Schuler answers the most frequently asked questions of pool owners and prospective owners. If you plan to do your own moving and need some helpful suggestion on techniques of packing, hauling, lifting, renting a trailer, or driving a truck, we suggest George Sullivan's "Do-It-Yourself-Moving."

For gothic fans, Gwendoline Butler's "Sarsen Place" is a Victorian citadel of comfort, and a most unlikely setting for untangling a series of savage crimes. "Dark Beneath the Pines" by Anne Eliot is a suspense novel about a girl whose uncle-foster father disappears mysteriously from his summer camp in the Adirondacks. After a search she finds the uncle, his money, and love.

This week's thriller-chiller is "Witchfinder" by Maurice Hilliard, a tense story of modern satanism, and a woman who discovers to her horror that she is to become a victim.

For mystery fans, "It's Murder with Dover" by Joyce Porter—a mixture of

Ford LTD 4-Door Hardtop.

Surprisingly good mileage plus family-size comfort and security.

Good mileage on regular gas in a safe, solid, well-made family car is reassuring news. Especially today. But don't take our word for it. Check the facts: in recent mileage tests supervised by the General Environments Corporation, five new Ford LTD's got from 16.3 mpg.

The test took place from Phoenix to Los Angeles, covering flat and mountainous terrain. Under controlled conditions, the five drivers averaged 18.8 mpg at speeds not exceeding fifty on regular gas with normal dealer prep. Two of the drivers were housewives who got 16.3 and 20.2 mpg respectively. Which proves you don't have to be a professional to get good gas mileage.

Of course, mileage depends on maintenance, driving habits, total weight, road and driving conditions . . . and you may not get the same results. But by following the driving tips published in The Closer You Look Fuel Economy Book which you can get free at your local Ford Dealer, you'll find the six-passenger Ford LTD rides very efficiently. Even under city driving conditions.

Stop by your local Ford Dealer soon. He'll show you a wide selection of family-size Fords that are right for your family. Because when it comes to your family, comfort, convenience, safety and good gas mileage in a family-size Ford LTD are a tough combination to beat.

Be sure to pick up your free copy of The Closer You Look Fuel Economy Book today. It'll help you save gas and money.

Religious Scholars Eye Streaking

NEW YORK (AP) — Those "streaking" cut-ups may be showing more than they realize, including a subconscious wish to be small children again, immune from care or responsibility.

That and various other impulses to mock the pressures of adult reality are seen by several religious scholars in the current campus antic of running nude through public places.

It may be partly a "protest of the child against the prospect of responsible adulthood," says the Rev. Dr. Seward Hiltner, a noted theologian-psychologist of Princeton Theological Seminary.

"There's a part of all of us that would like to remain basically irresponsible, that wants to go back to uncomplicated childhood."

He says this is especially marked in the "intermediate stage" of growing up.

Such regressions, intermittently, can be helpful, he says. The innate yen for it—for heedless, unblameable childishness—is reflected in the lure of the eternal child, Peter Pan.

It's also seen in the primitive superstition that "men can lose their problems by shedding their clothes," says Dr. Calvin G. Seefeld, a professor of aesthetics at the Institute of Christian Studies, Toronto, Canada.

While pointing out its naive aspects as well as underlying religious-psychological connotations, the theologians also cite its zany side—its echoes of the absurd abandon of ancient rites of spring.

Tax Distribution Measure Passes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The House passed today and sent to the governor for signing into law a bill to assure each county of at least $10,000 a month from the local government fund.

The vote was 82-0.

The idea behind the bill is to assure each county of a minimum amount for budgetary purposes. A final accounting for each county will be made in December.

Current law requires that no county receive less than $150,000 in December, but many get varying amounts earlier in the year.

Miss Laura Kay Pickett Bride Of Floyd E. Wogan

The marriage of Miss Laura Kay Pickett and Mr. Floyd Everett Wogan took place 11 a.m. February 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pickett, Route 1, Stoutsville. Mr. Pickett is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. John D. Wogan, Columbus. The single ring ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected for her wedding a floor length gown of pink with a white rose pattern and scalloped lace forming the stand-up collar and the long fitted sleeves. She wore a face framing caplet which held the shoulder length veil worn by her mother when she was married, and she carried her grandmother's blue flowered handkerchief. Her only jewelry was a sweetheart necklace, a present from the bridegroom.

Miss Tonya Johnson was matron of honor for her sister. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of pale pink with loose long sleeves and three inch cuffs. The gown was buttoned down the front and a buckle accented the waistline.

Ring bearer was Master Ronald Pickett Jr., brother of the bride and best man was Mr. John D. Wogan Jr., brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Mr. Bob Johnson and Master Mark Pickett.

The bride's mother was attired in a floor length gown of light blue polyester with full chiffon sleeves and

MISS AMY CURTISS

Amy Curtiss will be speaker for the 8 p.m., March 21 meeting of Pickaway County Historical Society in its meeting room at the museum.

Miss Curtiss was one of 25 girls from all over Ohio who participated in a 16 day trip to the Soviet Union sponsored by the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council.

These girls, the first American Scouts to visit a Communist country, went to Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev.

OFWC Schedules Legislation Day

Central Ohio River District of Ohio Federation of Women's Club will meet at the Holiday Inn, Portsmouth, for Legislation Day on March 19. Portsmouth Junior Women's City Club will host the event.

The function of this meeting is to bring to club women knowledgeable speakers on current issues and legislation and to bring them an opportunity to ask questions, clarify ideas and carry back information to their own community.

Call to order will be 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Vernon E. Penwell, president of CORD presiding. Mrs. Craig Allen, district legislation chairman, will present the program. Topics will concern election spending reform, vocational education and penalties of child abuse laws.

Mrs. Tom Phillips, CORD sewing contest chairman, will narrate a style show featuring fashions made by high school students and clubwomen in the district. Winners will be chosen and sent to OFWC Convention in April for state competition.

Combined Circles Meet At Calvary Church Annex

Circles of Calvary United Methodist Church met together recently in the church annex. Mrs. Dale DeLong, president, opened the meeting with a reading "Baking A Cake In Indonesia" followed with a prayer.

The visitation committee reported 26 visits made during February. All books for the reading course are now available and a printed list was given to members. To complete the course four books, one from each category, plus "Out Look" are to be read.

Two Easter flowers are to be purchased to decorate the sanctuary and will then be given to shut-ins.

Discussion was held concerning the Mother-Daughter party for which a carry-in dinner is scheduled. Plans will be completed at a later date.

An invitation from Good Shepherd United Methodist Church for the inter-church meeting on March 25 in the Service Center was read.

It was agreed to send a sum of money to headquarters in memory of Mrs. Virgil Francis.

Busy Bees Club Has Program On 'Mini Gardens'

"Mini Gardens" was the topic of the lesson for the Tuesday meeting of Roundtown Busy Bees Extension Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. Nora Noise, 594 Renick Ave. Mrs. Daniel Eitel was co-hostess.

Mrs. Darrell Hatfield conducted the business meeting which was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States and the club collect.

Plans were made for the Spring All-County Extension meeting to be held April 29.

Present were: Mrs. Beverly Becktel, County Extension Agent; Mrs. V. D. Kerns, Mrs. Donald Rose, Mrs. Daniel Eitel, Miss Maggie Mavis, Mrs. C. C. Schwarz, Mrs. Charles Walters.

Mrs. Robert Denman, Mrs. T. F. Hatfield, Mrs. Harry Lane, Mrs. Lloyd Kittle, Mrs. Orrin Stout, Mrs. Noble Barr, Mrs. Darrell Hatfield and Mrs. Nora Noise.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Way To Play The Game

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a very successful business man. We have two sons who are planning to follow in their father's footsteps. The problem: Our name.

It has been in the newspapers often over the years because someone with the same name as ours has been involved in some terrible scandals. In fact he was found guilty of a crime and served time in a federal penitentiary. Wherever we go we are asked if we are related to this infamous character, because he has a brother who is in the same business as my husband.

We say no, which is true, but it still bothers us. At this stage of my husband's life, he doesn't want to change his name. But what do you think about our sons changing theirs? They love their father and wouldn't want to hurt him, but their lives would be much less complicated if they didn't have to explain that they are not related to "so-and-so."

VICTIMIZED IN N.Y.
DEAR VICTIMIZED: The unfortunate coincidence of having the same name as one who has sullied it is a widely shared experience. However, it carries no real stigma, because intelligent fair minded people judge a man by his own performance. And those who don't, deserve to be ignored.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, not bad looking, have a college degree, and a very good job. However, I have a serious problem. Due to an accident, I have trouble controlling my bladder. During the daytime I control it by going to the restroom often, but I cannot control it at night.

Because of my bed-wetting, I probably will never marry unless I find a girl who has the same problem. It isn't easy to find such a girl because she probably would never admit it.

How can I meet girls about my age who also wet the bed? If they wrote to you, we could correspond. I promise not to rush into marriage; I would be very cautious and be sure we loved each other first. Thank you.

WANTS TO MARRY
DEAR WANTS: Instead of looking for a girl with the same problem, look for a girl who qualifies in every other way, then deal with the problem later. A possible solution is the wet alarm which awakens you during the night and helps you to keep dry. Another, twin beds.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16 year old girl who is considered quite popular. (I am not bragging but people tell me I am very pretty, and I know I have a good figure.)

My problem is that I DON'T WANT TO damage my reputation which is okay, but it's getting tougher to keep it that way. You see, when a fellow takes me out to show me a good time and spends his hard earned money on me, I feel that I can't turn him down when he wants to park and make out.

I don't go too far, Abby, but afterwards I feel so cheap. Is this wrong when I know when to stop?

CANDY
DEAR CANDY: When a fellow asks you out, all he is entitled to is your company. And unless you want to risk your hard-earned reputation, don't feel obligated to give a fellow his hard-earned money's worth. YOU may know when to stop, but he may insist on calling the signals.

U.S. Executive Still Missing In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The whereabouts of American oil executive Victor Samuelson remained a mystery today despite payment four days ago of a record $14.2 million ransom to Marxist guerrillas for his release.

It was not known if the People's Revolutionary Army (ERP) were still holding the 36-year-old refinery manager from Cleveland, Ohio, or if he had been released and secretly flown abroad.

Officials of Esso Argentina, Samuelson's employer and a subsidiary of Exxon, would say only that they would make no immediate statement when Samuelson was released. They implied the announcement would come from Exxon's New York headquarters.

Police sources said they had no information that he had been freed. There was also no information from Samuelson's wife, who was sent to the United States in mid-January with the couple's three children.

Along with the ransom, Exxon agreed to the guerrillas' demand for an advertisement in 42 local and provincial newspapers saying the ransom returned "super-earnings obtained in Argentina through exploitation of workers."

Only three newspapers printed the advertisement, however, fearing government retaliation for disseminating rebel propaganda. The leftist El Mundo printed the ad twice, and the government closed it indefinitely for "attempting to distribute subversive material." No action was taken against the other two papers.

ERP guerrillas seized Samuelson Dec. 6 while he was eating lunch at the refinery he headed at Campana, 60 miles north of Buenos Aires. Informed sources said a suitcase containing the $14.2-million ransom in $100-bills was delivered Monday at a secret rendezvous.

Gunners Lose Talking Contest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 1,000 gun enthusiasts lost a talking contest with a half dozen Ohio legislators at a marathon hearing on a proposed ban on handguns.

To begin with, only about 160 of the gun fans could get into the House Judiciary Committee hearing room for a session that started at 7:30 p.m. and would end after 3 a.m. the next morning.

But, once inside, the gun fans didn't have a chance when the television cameras began to grind. A half dozen legislators, including one who talked for 40 minutes, used up all the prime time.

There was no apparent reason why the House members had to speak before witnesses who had traveled across the state.

"They're just using this for a campaign forum," fumed a member of the American Rifle Association. "They're all running for re-election this year and they want to make points with their constituents who don't want this legislation."

Rep. Joseph F. Hiestand, R-77 Hillsboro, who spoke for 40 minutes, could not be accused of campaigning. The former national trapshooting champion and gun fancier announced months ago he would not run again.

Rep. Harry Malott, D-87 Mount Orab, probably was motivated by the issue itself. He used a handgun, which the legislation would have banned, to chase a pair of burglars out of his home a month ago. He said it probably saved both his and his wife's lives.

Reps. Ethel G. Swanbeck, R-72 Huron; Dale Locker, D-80 Anna; Gene Damschroder, R-85 Fremont, and Ray

Reflective Tape
For Bikes Planned

Young bicycle owners will have the opportunity to have reflective tape installed on their bikes from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. March 23 in the Parking lot at the Pickaway County Courthouse.

The project is being sponsored by 23 Auto Parts to promote bicycle safety.

Luther, R-1 Newark, argued against the control bill with statements often used before. They engaged in legislative semantics when Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-16 Shaker Heights, the bill's main sponsor, tried to shoot their arguments full of holes.

The committee eventually killed the Lehman proposal that would have placed the question of a ban against all handguns before the voters. The panel did recommend a bill to outlaw cheap handguns.

The compromise measure moved on to an uncertain fate in the House Rules Committee, which hears no witnesses.

Maybe you couldn't call it a credibility gap, exactly, but when Gov. John J. Gilligan signed into law Ohio's 55-mile-an-hour speed limit, here's what happened:

Gilligan signed the bill as the Western Union clock on the news conference room clicked 10:39 a.m.

"We'll make it 10:45," Gilligan said. And history will record it that way—but it still was only 10:39.

Hollywood Honors Star James Cagney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Cagney came out of a 13-year retirement to accept the tributes of the film world as the man who "sang, danced and machine-gunned his way into our hearts."

Cagney, a movie tough guy and a self-described song-and-dance man for 40 years until his retirement in 1961, Wednesday m night received the second Life Achievement Award of the American Film Institute from its director, George Stevens Jr.

More than 1,000 people attended, including California Gov. Ronald Reagan, another former Warner Bros. contract player who co-starred with Cagney in the 1938 movie "Boy Meets Girl," and many top Hollywood personalities.

The ceremony took place at a dinner at the Century Plaza Hotel. The 90-minute tribute, hosted by Frank Sinatra, will be televised by CBS Monday night.

Cagney, 71, his red hair turned white and looking heavier than his old dancing weight, said: "I am very grateful for this award, but why don't we just say that for now I am merely the custodian for those wonderful guys and gals who worked with me."

As Cagney walked to the podium to accept his award, the orchestra played "Yankee Doodle Dandy" from his 1942 Academy-Award-winning film that won him an Oscar for best actor. The audience stood and clapped along to the music.

In a nostalgia-filled evening that included many clips from his most popular pictures, his friends and former co-stars recalled working with him.

Charlton Heston, chairman of the board of AFI, said Cagney was the "most American of actors, yet he communicated eloquently across the world."

John Wayne said: "You're a great actor, a great citizen and all of us — all of us — love you."

Mae Clarke, who got the grapefruit in the face in the 1931 movie, "Public Enemy," said: "Forty-three years ago, Jim pushed a grapefruit in my face. Since then, I've learned to live with it and love it... we love you and a really nice guy comes in first."

Glenn Criticizes Nixon Campaign Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Nixon's recommendation for campaign financing reform "will do nothing to return control of the government to the people," says former astronaut John Glenn.

Glenn, in a statement issued Thursday, said Nixon's plan would favor incumbents.

Glenn is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate from Ohio.

Two local volunteers have been qualified as instructor-trainers and CPR instructors for the American Heart Assn. through the local Red Cross chapter. They will retrain instructors and train new ones before the end of 1974.

Hey, the chart only tells part of the story. Don't forget, Duster gives good gas mileage on regular fuel.
It's easy to handle, easy to park and is easy on upkeep. Like the standard Electronic Ignition System that virtually eliminates ignition tune-ups.
Duster's price is nice, too. But let a member of our Chrysler-Plymouth Economy Team tell you all about that. You know who I mean.

Sheriff Sued For Money Recovery

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Butler County Prosecutor John Holcomb has filed suit to recover $20,400 from Sheriff Harold Carpenter following an audit report from state Auditor Joseph Ferguson.

The audit charged the sheriff was responsible for a $20,400 shortage. Carpenter said the shortage was a matter of bookkeeping procedures and could be clarified.

Holcomb said he felt the case should be heard by a judge.

He filed the action Thursday in Butler County Common Pleas Court.

"After hearing the state examiner's explanation of his findings and the sheriff's explanation, I came to the conclusion, and it is my judgement, that in all fairness to the state examiner, the sheriff, and, most important, the people of Butler County, that this matter presents questions which can only legitimately be resolved in a court of law," Holcomb said.

The audit covered the period from Jan. 1, 1971, through Aug. 31, 1972.

A total of 1410 units of blood were collected in 12 visits of the Red Cross Bloodmobile in 1973. During 1974 nine visits have been scheduled with a quota of 150 units per visit.

Escape?

He's escaped the fate of an egg—but what has the chick got to look forward to? The technology that incubated him in twenty-one days now carries him relentlessly toward the roaster.

We, too, often seem trapped on a similar conveyor belt, caught in a cadence which carries us step by step through life. The care-free days of childhood swiftly wane once schooling begins. Then come jobs, marriage, family, a home.

The list—and the responsibilities of mature life—seems endless. No wonder we long to escape—to "get away from it all."

Yet such daydreams little help us to cope with life today. God's love and wisdom give us the guidance and solace we need. His Church—the church down the street—stands ready to meet our needs.

ROTARY GUEST—Thursday's guest speaker for the Rotary Club was introduced by the Rev. David Frazier, song leader for the month. The guest speaker, Bill Randles, right, spoke on the forthcoming cable television for the Circleville area.

Rotary Guest Talks Of Cable Television

The guest speaker for the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday was Bill Randles. Randles is with the Circleville Cable Vision Corporation and explained to Rotarians how the company was formed with the help of some local investors.

He advised that hook-up to cable television would cost local residents approximately $6 per month after an initial installation charge of $10. Additional outlets in the home may be available at a reasonable rate. The hook-up to the cable will also make nearly 25 FM stereo stations available to the Circleville residents.

Progress is being made to the point that a station is being built on Earnhart Hill and an office established in the city to handle the business end of the operation. Randles went on to explain to the club members that residents would be able to receive stations from Cincinnati, Columbus, and Cleveland. The additional coverage would bring Canadian and the World Football League into our area.

New movie packages will be available as well as local programming from the schools. Under the terms of franchise awarded, the city will receive three per cent of the gross income from cable television.

Guests at the meeting held at the L-K Restaurant were E. G. Parsons and John Phillips. Rotarians were reminded next week's meeting will be the auction held with the wives at the 4-H and Grange building at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Members were urged to bring articles of value to be auctioned for the benefit of crippled children. Box lunches will also be auctioned and shared by members and their wives.

Armstrong Opens Drive

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Harry L. Armstrong, R-17 Logan, kicked off his campaign for re-election Thursday night at a $20-a-plate dinner that attracted 300 persons.

Armstrong faces one of the toughest Republican primary fights involving legislators.

He is pitted against Rep. Oakley C. Collins, R-92 Ironton, in the May 7 primary. Collins is a former state senator.

Among persons honoring Armstrong at the dinner was Senate President Pro Tem Theodore M. Gray, R-4 Columbus.

"The man you're honoring here tonight is one of the greatest fighters I've ever known," Gray said.

Friday was "Harry Armstrong Day" in Logan and Columbus Mayor Tom Moody has declared Friday Armstrong Day in Columbus. At one time, Armstrong represented a portion of Franklin County.

Youth Held For Cincy Murder

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Police continued to question a 20-year-old Cincinnati man today in connection with the beating death of a 63-year-old cancer victim during a burglary.

The youth was picked up Thursday by homicide detectives. He was being held on old traffic charges.

Robert C. Spraul, 63, of Cincinnati's Price Hill Section, died Tuesday of suffocation as a result of massive head injuries, according to Hamilton County Coroner Dr. Frank Cleveland.

The victim was pistol whipped, handcuffed and his feet were bound, police said. He was unable to cry for help because he had recently undergone a throat operation.

The body was found covered with a blanket under a heavy chair. Police responded after receiving an anonymous telephone call saying a man was badly injured at the address.

The home was ransacked and police said part of Spraul's extensive coin collection was missing.

Spraul had advertised the collection for sale in a local newspaper.

Radio Club Plans Meeting

The Pickaway County Radio Patrol held its regular meeting March 7 in the McDowell Exchange School with Ted Penwell presiding.

Plans for a square dance and patrol runs were discussed. Members were also reminded of the Fire Walk planned by the Saltcreek Township Whistler Volunteer Fire Department 1 p.m. April 21.

New members inducted were: Kenneth Diehl, Brookie Diehl, and Florence Williams. Ted Penwell Jr., was the only guest.

Members present were: Ted Penwell, Charles Barnhart, Thelma Penwell, Paul Mills, Gladys Mills, Opal Barnhart, Joe Barnhart, Paul Wood, Mabel Wood, Wiley Williams, Betty McFarland, Richard Caudill, and William Lanman.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Dairy Industry Indictment Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another in the growing list of Watergate defendants was due in court today for arraignment on a charge he lied to a grand jury about dairy industry money.

A Watergate grand jury indicted Jake Jacobsen, 54, of Austin, Tex., Feb. 24. He was accused of lying to a federal grand jury when he swore he let $10,000 lie in a bank safe deposit box for 2½ years without touching it.

In addition, it was regarded as likely that U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica

Food Cost For Family $42 Weekly

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The average American family spends $42 per week on food, up $5 from last year, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

In the East, the figure is highest — $49 — while the rest of the country reports weekly food costs of $40, according to the polling organization.

In 1942, when Gallup first asked about food costs, the weekly average was $11.

The Gallup organization interviewed 1,444 nonfarm families between Feb. 8 and Feb. 18. Splitting the results among income groups, it found that families with incomes of more than $15,000 per year spend an average of $52 a week, while those with incomes less than $5,000 a year spend an average of $29 a week.

Over the past 25 years, Gallup studies have shown food costs to rise slower than other family expenses.

In 1947, food costs made up half the total families spent on necessities. The 1974 survey showed that food accounts for about one-third of the minimum amount families said they need to make ends meet.

Girls' Team Ends First Season

By CINDY SIMS

The 1973-74 girls basketball season has just ended. This is the first year Circleville has had a completely organized girls' basketball team and schedule. Both reserve and varsity squads participated.

The two teams were coached by Miss Dee Grandstaff, girls' physical education teacher. Senior Chris Nelson captained the varsity squad, while sophomore Darla Hughes was captain of the reserve team.

The reserve Tigers ended with a record of 3-2. The varsity team was 4-4. The basketball team was a member of the new girls' South Central Ohio League. The league is also setting up girls' softball teams for interested SCOL schools.

Miss Dee Grandstaff says she encourages girls to come out for softball, which begins the first of April.

Miss Grandstaff stated, "The toughest team in the league was Miami Trace." She said, "Our basketball program worked out very well. I would like to thank everyone who came out and cheered for us. I hope we have as much support during softball."

DECA Student Ranks In State Competition

By TAMMY MILLER

Senior DECA student Brad Jones was awarded honorable mention in Parliamentary Law at the State DECA contest held last weekend at the Columbus Sheraton. This ranks Brad as fourth among the 52 students who competed in this area.

Brad resides at 206 Cedar Heights Road with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones. At the National DECA Leadership Conference, which will be held April 28 through May 1 in Chicago, Brad will compete against DECA students from Puerto Rico, as well as from all 50 states.

A Chapter Membership award was given to CHS Senior DECA for their 11 per cent student involvement, increased occupational competencies, personal growth and leadership development.

In the past seven years with Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood as coordinator, CHS has sent four state first place winners on to national DECA competition. In both 1967 and 1969 Miss Ohio DECA, Melissa Willoughby and Sandy Tracy, respectively, came from Circleville High School. In 1968 Fred Wagner won the Mathematics of Distribution contest. In 1972 Debbie Dunn was first in the area of Radio Advertising.

Other DECA students competing in the state contest this year were seniors Debbie Snyder, Ruth Garner, Becky Dountz, Cathy Arledge, Cindy Corne, Bill Salyers, John Clifton, and Tony Betts. Juniors attending were Sharon Snyder, Anita Stevens, Beth Blaney, and David Rossiter.

CHS Sends 21 To Musical Competition

By RICK BUMGARDNER

CHS sent 21 music students to the District XIII Solo and Ensemble competition at Columbus West High School last Saturday.

The performers were judged as I, a superior performance; II, an excellent performance; III, a good performance; IV, a fair performance; and V, a poor performance.

Receiving a I rating were vocal soloist Sue Heffelfinger, "Un Bel Di"; oboe soloist Gloria Alvarez, "La Village"; and French horn soloist Donna Milburn, "Walton's Prize Song."

Ratings of II were received by vocal soloist Bret Patrick, "Come Ye Blessed"; piano soloist Cathy Wellman, "Viennese Sonata No. 1"; piano soloist Cheryl Neff, "Claire de Lune"; piano and clarinet soloist Sue Milburn, "Claire de Lune" (piano) and "Sonata in F Minor" (clarinet); piano soloist Donna Milburn, "Gollywogg's Cake Walk"; clarinet quartet, "Caprice for Clarinet"; brass trio, "Sonata for Seven-Part Brass Choir"; trumpet trio, "Chiquita"; trumpet soloist Kirk Knecht, "Andante et Scherzo"; and baritone soloist Jodi Linn, "Morceau de Concours."

Others receiving ratings of III or IV were vocal soloist Robin Halley, "Stopping by the Woods"; piano soloist John Neff, "Fur Elise"; piano soloist Audrey May, "Sonata Op. 49"; piano soloist Meri Wood, "Prelude I and II"; flute soloist Susan Herel, "Suite in A Minor"; and trumpet soloist Tim Brown, "Concerto."

More than 150 adult volunteers of Pickaway County Red Cross involve themselves with service to Berger and VA Hospitals, chapter house, Bloodmobile, clinics, nursing homes, private homes and motor service.

Teacher Finds Job Rewarding

MISS ELAINE JUDY

By ROBIN MARTIN

"I like teaching in Circleville very much. The staff and the students are very cooperative and make my job very rewarding," are the comments of Miss Elaine Judy, a new fourth grade teacher at Nicholas Drive Elementary. Miss Judy resides at Route 4.

She attended Ohio University where she earned a bachelor of science degree in elementary education.

Before coming to Circleville, she taught in the Logan Elm School District for two and one-half years.

When asked her teaching philosophy, Miss Judy stated, "I feel that each child can succeed at something. My main goal is to help each child succeed as much as possible and to enjoy the learning processes."

Miss Judy pointed out that she came to Circleville because she liked several of the curriculum programs, especially the reading program that Circleville uses.

She is a member of the Saltcreek Valley Grange, Tarlton United Methodist Church, Ohio Education Association, Central Ohio Teacher's Association and Circleville Education Association.

She listed sewing as her main hobby, but she said she also enjoys music and reading.

Preschoolers Studied In Home Ec Class

By RONI KEISER

Coming to school is quite an experience for children who have not attended elementary school yet and coming to the high school is even a bigger experience.

The Home Economics II class brought preschool children to the classroom to observe and learn about child development last Thursday.

The reactions of the children were quite typical. Some enjoyed the visit, some were quite frightened, and some took advantage of the refreshments. Sophomore Carol Davis commented, "It was a good experience to see how long it takes the children to come out of their shyness and also how they get along with other children."

The girls baked cookies for the children and served refreshments. They also played games and talked with the preschoolers.

When the visit was over the children's parents came to get them.

"It was a very good experience for the girls as well as for the children," said Miss Nancy Shelton, Home Economics II teacher.

Slave Days Planned To Raise Money

By JOHN DOWLER

The cost of the band's trip to the Indianapolis 500 this May will be approximately $3500.

In order to raise some of this money, the band is planning "Slave Days."

On "slave days" anyone who has a job that needs to be done—preparing a garden, trimming shrubs, cleaning garages, painting, or doing any small jobs—may hire one bandsman or a group of bandsmen to help him with the job. A donation can be given to the band, depending on the size of the job.

The official title will be "Work-in Days for the Tiger Band." The bandsmen will be for "Hire" on March 23 and 30.

People who wish for any assistance in jobs should contact Mr. Gary Dean or Mrs. Candy Rigo in care of Circleville High School, 380 Clark Drive.

End Is Near For Seniors' School Days

By CONNIE FORREST

As the end grows near, the seniors await with great anticipation the final highlights of the last stretch of 12 long years. One of the annual events is tomorrow night, the last Sweetheart Dance for all seniors.

On April 26 and 27 the senior class play, "Cheaper By The Dozen" will be presented.

One major event in all seniors' lives is the Junior-Senior Prom. This year's theme will be Las Vegas. The dance will be from 8-12. The band will be Shane. After-prom will take place at the coliseum, beginning at 1 a.m. and lasting until 4 a.m. The music will come from the band the Ten Penny Opera.

Then the day all seniors have awaited will come May 24. The graduation exercises will be June 2 at 2 p.m. on the football field with the Rev. Liston Halley as the speaker.

The senior class of 1974 has already chosen their class colors: forest green and ivory. Their motto is "Some men see things as they are and ask why. I dream of things that never were and ask why not." (by J. F. Kennedy.) The class flower is a yellow rose.

College Offers Career Clinic

By TAMMY MILLER

Have you ever wondered what college life is really like? If you have, Davis and Elkins College in Elkins, West Virginia, has a program designed especially for you.

During the week of June 23-27, 1974, the college will hold a career Counseling Clinic for high school sophomores and juniors. The clinic will assist the students in developing vocational guidelines and gaining a feel for the college life.

The clinic is staffed by high school guidance counselors and members of the Davis and Elkins College counseling staff. They will work with groups of three and four students to provide individual help.

The students live in residence halls with summer school students, and meals are provided in the student union. The cost of the clinic for the five days is $110.

For further information, contact the CHS guidance office.

Bowl Team Places In League

The CHS Olympian Councils Mythology Bowl team placed in the top six teams at the 24th Annual Ohio Junior Classical League Convention, held this past weekend in Columbus.

The team made it to the semi-finals, which consisted of 6 of the 34 original participating teams. The CHS team was defeated, along with two other teams.

John Dowler, president of the Olympian Council or Latin Club, stated, "Our team was up against a lot of tough teams. This was our first time to enter, and I feel this is a fine showing of our ability and school spirit."

The members of the CHS team were junior Beth Bushee, senior Sue Heffelfinger, senior Bill Houston, and freshman Dan Smith. The alternates were junior Amy Curtiss and senior John Dowler. Sandra Rector, Mrs. Dean Bushee, and Mrs. Eugene Dowler also attended.

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The perils of the NCAA basketball playoffs continue Saturday with another episode after a cliff-hanging escape by UCLA and the end of the serial for Notre Dame.

Faced by sudden-death extinction, UCLA's proud defending champions put down stubborn Dayton 111-100 in triple overtime Thursday night in a pressurized West regional semifinal game.

Notre Dame wasn't so lucky, though. Michigan took the fight out of the Fighting Irish with a shocking 77-68 victory over the nation's second-ranked team.

Top-ranked North Carolina State,

meanwhile, kept no one on the edge of his seat with an unsuspenseful, 92-78 rout of Providence in the East.

These results, among others, set up the regional finals.

UCLA will play San Francisco, which defeated New Mexico 64-61 in the less dramatic second game of that West doubleheader at Tucson, Ariz. Michigan's stunning victory earned the Wolverines a berth in the Midwest finals against Marquette, a 69-61 victor over Vanderbilt in the other Midwest game at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

North Carolina State will play the East finals against Pittsburgh, which trimmed Furman 81-78 at Raleigh, N. C.

Oral Roberts and Kansas advanced to the finals of the Midwest. Oral Roberts defeated Louisville 96-93 and Kansas rallied for a 55-54 decision over Creighton in Thursday night's semifinals at Tulsa, Okla.

The best action of the night by far was the UCLA-Dayton game, an affair with all the elements of a movie thriller.

The Bruins, nine-time winners of the national championship in the last 10 years, were heavy favorites over the Flyers. And it looked like things were going to go that way, with UCLA holding a 17-point lead at one time.

But the Flyers rallied behind Mike Sylvester and Don Smith to tie the game at 80 at the end of regulation time. The score was also tied at the end of the first and second overtimes, at 88 and 98.

Then Bill Walton, UCLA's outstanding center, scored five points in the third overtime to pull it out. The Flyers couldn't run with the deep Bruins at this point and were only able to score two points to UCLA's 13 in the third extra period.

Howard Smith scored 16 points and Kevin Restani added 14 for San Francisco. The Dons grabbed the lead for good midway through the second half with eight straight points, four by Restani.

Campy Russell scored 36 points and collected 18 rebounds to trigger Michigan's upset of Notre Dame. Russell took charge of the rebounding early and Wayman Britt scored 12 points as the Wolverines bolted to a 28-8 lead over the stunned Irish.

Notre Dame later came back behind John Shumate, who scored 34 points overall, but buckled under Russell's bullseye shooting later in the second half.

Marquette put down a late rally by Vanderbilt, which had thrived on comeback victories all year. Two shots by Bo Ellis and one by Ed Daniels in a sixpoint streak with three minutes left killed the Commodores' comeback hopes.

David Thompson connected for 40 points to lead North Carolina State's big victory over Providence.

Bill Knight scored 34 points, 22 of them in the second half, to lead Pittsburgh past Furman. Lew Hill and Kirk Bruce added 12 points apiece to the Pitt offense.

Sam McCants fired in 30 points to lead Oral Roberts past Louisville. Trailing most of the game, Kansas rallied in the final four minutes behind Tommy Smith to defeat Creighton.

Flyers Top Blues 4-2 In NHL Clash

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Believe it or not, there are times when hockey players have other things on their minds than the outcome of the game they're playing.

Thursday night, the St. Louis Blues and Philadelphia Flyers were locked in a close National Hockey League contest, but Flyers wing Dave Kelly's thoughts were elsewhere ... New York for instance.

"It was such a boring game, the only exciting thing was the scoreboard," Kelly said after the Flyers' 4-2 victory.

The news from New York was that the Chicago Black Hawks defeated the Rangers 5-2 to remain within eight points of the West Division-leading Flyers.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the Boston Bruins edged the Buffalo Sabres 4-3 and the Toronto Maple Leafs topped the New York Islanders 2-1.

Bobby Clarke, Bill Flett, Tom Bladen and Andre Dupont backed Flyers goalie Bernie Parent's 40th victory of the season — just four short of the NHL record.

In the World Hockey Association, the Chicago Cougars defeated the Minnesota Fighting Saints 7-4; the Houston Aeros blanked the Los Angeles Sharks 6-0; the Quebec Nordiques edged the Toronto Toros 3-2, and the New England Whalers dropped the Vancouver Blazers 6-3.

LE Cage Banquet Set

The Logan Elm School district basketball banquet will be held beginning 5:30 p.m. Saturday in the McDowell Building.

The Banquet will honor seventh and eighth grade teams at Laurelville and McDowell, the Logan Elm ninth grade, reserve and varsity basketball teams and all coaches, cheerleaders, managers and other basketball workers.

It will be a carryin supper with rolls and beverages furnished by the Logan Elm Boosters.

NIT Thought Better Than NCAA Tourney

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Senior Lloyd Batts, No. 4 alltime leading scorer at the University of Cincinnati—1,568 points—said he believes the National Invitation Tournament will be better than the NCAA.

"I think the NIT will be more competitive," said the 6-foot-5 senior forward.

"Anyone can win the NIT, but UCLA is the big favorite in the NCAA.

"Our chances are just as good as the No. 1 pick (North Carolina)."

Kentucky State Advances In NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kentucky State thinks it's on the threshold of becoming the first team ever to win the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball championship four times.

The second-seeded Thorobreds, who had to display class to overcome Midwestern of Texas 80-74 Thursday night, hope to jump another hurdle tonight in a semifinal battle with No. 14 West Georgia.

The other semifinal contest and the night's curtain raiser sends No. 16 St. Mary's of Texas against No. 4 Alcorn A&M.

West Georgia advanced by whipping Indiana of Pennsylvania 103-69, marking the third game in as many appearances in this 37th annual tournament the Braves have broken the 100 point mark.

St. Mary's downed No. 8 Augustana of Illinois 74-65 in the quarter-finals, and Alcorn A&M edged Hanover of Indiana 107-102 in a double overtime cliffhanger.

Freshman Gerald Cunningham, who kept the Thorobreds in the game with Midwestern with a 24-point first half, finished with 30. Kentucky State, behind six points at the half, finally went ahead on Cunningham's basket with 11 minutes, 23 seconds left and once led by 13 points.

Clarence Walker and Tom Turner found the range often in the early stages and helped West Georgia pile up a 63-28 halftime lead over the outclassed Pennsylvanians. Walker got 20 his 24 points in the first half. Turner finished with 20.

Dennis Carter was the clutch man in St. Mary's triumph. When the Vikings trailed by only three points with 2:58 left, Carter, who wound up with 26 points, hit a free throw and three field goals. Gary Tomaszewski added 20 more.

Alcorn A&M blew a 10-point lead in the second half against Hanover and finally won on William Bell's three-point play and Nathaniel Archibald's six consecutive points in the second extra period. Bell made 29 points. Dennis Laker and Jeff Jay paced Hanover with 30 and 28 points, respectively.

Toledo Stops Arizona State In CCA Tournament, 81-74

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "They were bumping, but we've been bumped more by Michigan, Marquette and South Carolina," the coach of Toledo University's Rockets said.

Arizona State's Sun Devils attempted to outmuscle the Rockets Thursday night and came off on the short end of an 81-74 score in the Collegiate Commissioners Association basketball tourney.

The upset advanced Toledo, 19-8, to Sunday's semifinals of the tournament along with 15thranked Southern Cal, which disposed of Southern Methodist 82-70.

Filling the other berths in the semifinals will be winners of games tonight between 10thranked Indiana, 20-5, and Tennessee, 17-8, which meet in an opener, and Kansas State, 19-7, and Bradley, 19-7, who vie in the nightcap.

"It's sort of like playing tackle — the more you get hit the better you get at it," explained Toledo Coach Bob Nichols, whose Rockets gave away size but not guile to Arizona State.

Tigers 9th At Newark Invitational

Circleville's track team opened the indoor season Thursday night in the 10-team Newark Indoor Invitational at Denison University.

The Tigers were the only AA school running against some of the top AAA teams in the area.

Circleville tallied 4½ points to place ninth in the meet.

Upper Arlington captured the event with 58 points. Lancaster had 49, Gahanna 29, Newark 26, Mt. Vernon 14, West Carrollton 10½, Hilliard 10, Brookhaven 6, Circleville 4½ and Groveport tallied 1.

Placing for Circleville were: Frank Plescia, fourth in high jump, 6 feet; mile relay team, Robin Martin, Mike McCoy, Doug Radabaugh and John Ankrom, fourth, 3:55.3; Doug Radabaugh, tie for fifth in pole vault, 11 feet; Reggie Radcliff, sixth, pole vault; Robin Martin, sixth in 440; and the 8-lap relay team, Tim Strawser, Scott Simpson, Wade Camp and Rick Sampill, sixth.

Circleville will compete in the Central District Indoor Preliminaries 4 p.m. Monday at French Fieldhouse at Ohio State University. The meet finals will be 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Anyone who attended any of the high school basketball games this past season knows what fine fans we have in Pickaway County.

Whenever any of our teams played, the local following didn't take a back seat to anyone in attendance or vocal encouragement. If the teams were on the road, a caravan of faithful rooters could be seen leaving Pickaway County to back their boys in their efforts on the hardwoods.

In our travels this past season, we always found the local gallery filled to capacity and the rafters ringing with riotous, raucous shouts as the fans cheered the local heroes on to greater heights.

In case anyone might think that this is not appreciated by the boys, we would like to print a letter we received from the Teays Valley cagers and cheerleaders.

Here is the complete letter we received:

To the Editor:

We, the members of the Teays Valley basketball team, would like to express our appreciation for the support of our loyal fans throughout the past season. Whether we played at home or away, we knew we could count on you to be there, cheering us on.

We would also like to thank Mr. McGaffney of The Circleville Herald and P. J. of WNRE for their coverage of our games.

With the help and support of our school administrators, teachers, Coach Hoover and especially the fans, this has been a good year for us and with your continued support next year, we hope to do even better.

The Teays Valley Vikings

George Spohn, Chuck Glitt, Lee Stiles, Jay Brinker, Kevin Pettibone, Rick Peters, Craig Pontius, Jeff Anderson, Dave Glick, Steve Gregory, Terry Lambert, Terry Collins, Dan Brinker, Jim Logsdon, Lori Stewart, Brenda Brinker, Susie Glitt, Kathy Hoffman, Kim Glick, Pam Younkin and Jeri Voss.

It was all summed up when "our Jerry" read the letter and commented, "It's things like this that makes even climbing the ladder at Grove City worthwhile."

Our "fearless" forecast—The Irishman, John Mahaffey, will be counting plenty of green on St. Patrick's Day in the Greater Jacksonville Open.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The National League has been conducting cautious experiments with the designated hitter rule this spring and the Atlanta Braves, for one, are pleased with the results.

The Braves nominated Jack Pierce as their DH Thursday against the New York Yankees and Pierce responded with three base hits in Atlanta's 3-2, 12-inning exhibition victory.

Pierce doubled and scored in the eighth inning and did the same thing in the 12th, bringing home the winning run on a single by John Oates. Mike Hegan drove in both New York runs with a single in the third.

The Braves were able to use a DH because the game was played at the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home of the American League Yanks.

In other exhibition games, Baltimore routed Texas 12-3; Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 3-0; the Chicago White Sox shaded Philadelphia 6-5; Milwaukee dumped the Chicago Cubs 10-6; Boston defeated Houston 8-2; Pittsburgh trimmed Kansas City 7-1; the New York Mets edged Detroit 3-2; California stopped Cleveland 7-6; San Francisco beat San Diego 7-4; and Minnesota's split squad lost twice, bowing to Cincinnati 6-4 and Montreal 7-5.

Baltimore pounded Texas pitching for 18 base hits, three by Don Baylor. Jim Palmer pitched four scoreless innings for the Orioles.

Tommy John hurled five innings of no-hit ball for Los Angeles. Steve Garvey was the Dodger offensive star with two hits and two runs-batted-in.

Ken Henderson's three-run homer in the ninth inning lifted the White Sox past Philadelphia. Henderson's blow

Gullett, Reds Defeat Twins In 6-4 Clash

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Cincinnati Reds Manager Sparky Anderson predicted pitcher Don Gullett will be a 20-game winner for the next seven or eight years.

"He's on the verge of becoming a 20-game winner every year," Anderson said after Gullett gave up only two hits to the Minnesota Twins Thursday as the Reds won 6-4 in exhibition.

Gullett, 18-8 last year, developed a fork ball for an offspeed pitch after limping 9-10 through 1972 battling hepatitis.

"I learned a lot last year," said the 23-year-old pitcher.

"I learned what an off-speed pitch can do for you. I want to get in shape and be ready to throw all my pitches. If I do that and if I avoid injuries, I'll win my share," he said.

Roger Nelson, out all last year with elbow problems, gave up only one hit in four innings of relief hurling before the Twins tagged Pat Darcy for four runs in the ninth.

Minnesota's Ray Corbin gave up no hits in four innings and the Reds remained hitless until the seventh. Ed Armbrister walked, went to second on a balk and stole third.

He scored on Dan Driessen's infield hit to loser Jim Hughes.

Canton McKinley Reaches Finals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No. 1-ranked Canton McKinley, trying again to shed its bridesmaid role, advanced to the high school Class AAA regional basketball finals at Canton with a 53-49 triumph over Akron Kenmore Thursday night.

The Bulldogs, playing in their 23rd regional, meet Boardman (22-1) in the championship game Saturday for the right to go on to the state tournament next week.

Although almost always a powerhouse in the big school ranks, McKinley has never won a state championship. It has reached the state semifinals 13 times and has been runnerup six times.

In Class A action at Dayton, defending state champion Marion Pleasant rolled over New Albany 66-47 and Pittsburg Franklin-Monroe downed Cincinnati St. Bernard 74-62 to set up a rematch Saturday night of last year's regional title game.

Continental defeated Napoleon Edon 76-61 in the Bowling Green Class A regional and advanced to a championship game with Mount Blanchard Riverdale Saturday.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Billie Jean King leads the list of professional women tennis players who will be vying for the $10,000 top prize in the Akron Tennis Open.

Canton McKinley kept its record unblemished in 24 games after holding off a late Kenmore rally by shutting out the opponents in the last 2½ minutes of play.

Senior Stan Hall, who led all scorers with 18 points, clinched the victory for the Bulldogs with a layup with 15 seconds left to play.

Mahaffey, Harris Tie In Golf Tilt

JACKSONVILLE, FLA (AP) — John Mahaffey a baby-faced 25-year-old but one of the most intense competitors on the pro golf tour, spent the last two weeks at home in Houston, practicing a little but mostly fuming and fussing.

Because he had a mild case of the flu, his doctor advised against competing, but John wanted to get back at it.

"I like the competition out here," he said. "Most of my friends are out here — Hubert Green, Tom Watson, Ben Crenshaw."

So he celebrated his return to competition Thursday with a four-under-par 68 and a tie with big Labron Harris for the first round lead in the $150,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

"It feels good to be back, good to be playing again," said Mahaffey, who used some remarkable sand play — he was in four bunkers and played those four holes one under par — to take his share of the lead.

He and Harris, a 6-foot-4 veteran of 10 years on the tour, shared a one-shot advantage over Leonard Thompson, the easy-going winner of the Jackie Gleason tournament three weeks ago, and longshot Steve Spray tied at 69.

They were the only ones in the bulky field of 156 able to get into the 60s on the Deerwood Country Club course, a lake-dotted, pine-studded layout that played even longer than its 7,088 yards because of the chill temperatures and a gusty, tricky, swirling wind.

Kenmore bowed out with an 18-4 mark.

Marion Pleasant (20-3) cruised to an easy triumph over New Albany after a ninepoint second quarter outburst that led to a 31-17 halftime lead.

Larry Fink led Pleasant's balanced attack with 16 points and teammates Ron Wine and Steve Freshour added 14

Knicks Top Warriors

OAKLAND (AP) — The Knickerbockers from far-off New York have made the National Basketball Association's Pacific Division race what it is today.

"The Warriors and Lakers are both great teams. It should be a great battle down the stretch," Knicks' Coach Red Holzman said Thursday night after his team's 107-95 victory over the Golden State Warriors in the only NBA game played.

The San Antonio Spurs beat the Virginia Squires 105-90 in the only American Basketball Association game scheduled Thursday night.

The Knicks lost to Los Angeles Tuesday night, and the Lakers take a one-game lead into their game in Los Angeles tonight against Golden State. The Pacific contenders will meet here Saturday night.

Rugged Knicks forward Dave DeBusschere was the game's individual standout, with 30 points and 11 rebounds. Second year guard Dean Meminger scored 23 points for the winners and Walt Frazier added 20.

The Knicks are second in the Atlantic Division and are sure of a playoff berth. DeBusschere will probably get more rest tonight when the Knicks play in Portland.

New Albany, finishing with a 16-7 record, was paced by Yogi Criner with 16 points.

The Franklin-Monroe and St. Bernard contest was nip-and-tuck until the third quarter when senior forward Mike Cross netted nine straight points to put his team comfortably ahead.

The game was a repeat of last year's regional semifinal, also lost by St. Bernard, which finished this season with a 22-4 mark.

Continental rolled to an easy victory over Edon as Tim Streicher pumped in a game-high 25 points and Greg Spitznagle added 15. Continental carries a 20-3 record into the regional finale, while Edon finished with a 19-3 mark.

PUBLIC AUCTION
OF 186.69 ACRES
DEVELOPMENT LAND — ZONED COM-MERCIAL

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1974
Beginning at 2:00 P.M.

SALE TO BE HELD ON THE PREMISES

Located 8 miles south of Circleville; 8 miles north of Chillicothe; 35 miles south of Columbus in Pickaway Twp.,
Pickaway County, Ohio.

REAL ESTATE
This 186.69 acres is in an area that is rapidly developing commercially, industrially and residentially, ideally located within a short driving distance of Columbus and due to its gently rolling terrain it could easily be developed into an area of exclusive homes with shopping center. Also would lend itself agriculturally for a horse or cattle farm. Property has approximately 2600 feet of road frontage on U.S. 23, which is the main highway between Toledo, Columbus and Portsmouth. Also located on the property is a 14 in. drilled well which is 141 feet deep and has a total capacity available between 1400 GPM and 1500 GPM; an underground main which is approximately 1430 feet long with 5 risers and is of 8 in. transite and a large storage barn with feeding area. There are several soil types in the 186.69 acres but predominately Fox Loom and Kendalville Silt Loam.

TERMS OF SALE: Farm is sold subject to all zoning, government regulations, easement of record and legal highways. A deposit of $10,000.00 will be required at time of sale, balance of purchase price due upon delivery of deed on or before April 22, 1974.

INSPECTION: For further information or inspection contact
Roger E. Wilson, phone 852-1181 or Richard Warren of Cole

City Officer Recovers Stolen Car

A car, stolen in Delaware Wednesday, was recovered by Sgt. Larry Pontius in the General Telephone Co. parking lot on Pinckney St. 4:20 p.m. Thursday.

Pontius received a call from the Delaware Police Department at 4:10 p.m. Thursday advising him that the stolen car was believed to be in Circleville.

He began a search for the vehicle and 10 minutes later found it in the parking lot. The car had minor damage to it caused by an earlier fire in the vehicle.

The auto was impounded and Delaware police notified. They informed local authorities that they had two juveniles in custody for car theft.

Ohioans Face More Hikes In Gasoline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Office's proposed petroleum allocation regulations will mean substantially higher gasoline prices for Ohio motorists, members of the Ohio congressional delegation warned Thursday.

In a meeting with deputy energy chief John C. Sawhill, the congressmen urged the office to consider a new allocation formula which would guarantee foreign-dependent oil companies a certain percentage of domestic stocks.

An aide to Rep. Charles Vanik, D-Ohio, said the regulations, set to take effect April 1, would force the two major distributors of gasoline in Ohio, Sohio and Ashland, to buy the bulk of their crude oil at inflated foreign prices.

The oil companies would, in turn, pass the increased cost of their product on to the consumer.

The aide said under the current allocation program Sohio and Ashland are able to buy imported oil at a cost which represents the average of the high price of foreign crude and the controlled price of domestic crude.

The averaging system would be done away with under the proposed allocation system, he said.

Companies like Sohio and Ashland, which are almost entirely dependent on foreign oil for their supplies, would be hit particularly hard by the new regulations, according to the aide.

Sawhill reportedly gave no indication of what action, if any, the FEO might take on the congressmen's request.

Automakers Hope For Rise In Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry spokesmen predict car shoppers will stop looking and start buying once the Arab oil embargo is lifted.

"The main impact on our business will be to help dispel the cloud of uncertainty about gasoline supplies and prices that has been hanging over us since last October," Ford Vice President John B. Naughton said Thursday.

Spokesmen at the big three auto makers, stung in recent months by an unprecedented slump in big car sales, say they are anxiously awaiting official word that the embargo would be lifted. The auto makers hope the end of the embargo will revive sagging car sales, the spokesmen say.

But even after the embargo ends, industry observers agree that consumer preferences will not switch away from small cars.

Small car sales are easily outpacing 1973 sales levels, while big car sales have slumped more than 50 per cent and total car sales for the 1974 model year have dropped nearly 27 per cent.

While the big three haven't attributed the decline entirely to the embargo, executives say consumer uncertainty brought on by the Arab boycott was instrumental in keeping potential car buyers out of the showroom.

The sales decline has led to the indefinite layoff of 92,000 workers — 12 per cent of the auto makers' hourly work force — and temporary furloughs of another 90,000 workers during the first quarter.

General Motors, which depends on big car sales more than any other manufacturer, has suffered the worst slump with a 37 per cent sales decline and 65,000 workers on indefinite layoff.

Industry midget American Motors, with emphasis on its hot-selling small car lines, has bucked the trend, with sales for the year up 21 per cent from 1973 levels.

Stevie Wonder Moves To Africa

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blind soul singer Stevie Wonder says he plans to move to Africa and help underprivileged children, especially the blind.

Wonder said Thursday he is making arrangements to live in Ghana.

"This is not to say that I don't have a great love here that will be with me always," said Wonder, 23. "But I want to go to work helping the children over there."

Drug Control Measure Up For Vote Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William J. Brown's extensive drug control bill could be up for a vote on the House floor within two weeks, Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, says.

He referred Thursday to the omnibus bill that mandates jail or prison terms for "extremely harmful offenses" — but on the other end of the scale provides better rehabilitation opportunities for addicts.

Wilkowski is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee which recommended passage of the measure earlier this week after only two hearings. "We hope to get it through the House and into the Senate before the (April 4) recess," he said.

Before adjourning for weekend recess, the lawmakers moved another step toward returning Ohio's observance of Veterans Day from the fourth Monday in October back to the traditional Nov. 11 date.

Both houses return at 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

While Brown's drug bill makes such offenses as trafficking in drugs non-probationable, it falls considerably short of the tough New York law enacted last year at the request of then-Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

For instance, a New York conviction for pushing or selling drugs could bring a life sentence with the convicted person not eligible for parole for 15 years. Ohio's second offense of "corrupting another" would bring a minimum sentence of 12 years, under the pending bill.

The minimum mandatory sentence provided in the measure is six months for trafficking in marijuana. But the bill also modifies and scales down a bit the penalty for possession of marijuana.

Under present law, a first offense of possession can bring a jail sentence of up to a year and a fine of $1,000. That would be changed to six months of mandatory probation under the attorney general's proposal.

Although no state has legalized marijuana, the penalties for its use have been made more lenient in state after state. Brown is opposed to its legalization, as has been proposed by the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio.

"If the ACLU will bring in a knowledgeable doctor telling me that marijuana is no more harmful than a cigarette or a cup of coffee, I'd be happy to listen. But they don't have that kind of evidence," the attorney general says.

He also discounted a suggestion that officials should re-examine their position in view of widespread use of marijuana. "What if rapeseed, do we legalize them?" he asked.

As the bill emerged from the Judiciary Committee — after numerous amendments requested by pharmaceutical and other health care groups — the bill makes these major changes:

—Reclassification of drugs to conform with the Federal Comprehensive Drug Abuse and Control Act of 1970 and the Uniform Control Substance Act, the latter a model act adopted by more than 30 states.

Classifications are made in accordance with medical use of drugs, potential for abuse, and potential for dependence among others. The bill creates a Controlled Substance Board to administratively reclassify or add substances to the lists.

—Mandating of imprisonment for "designated, extremely harmful offenses, making possession of a defined minimum (bulk) amount of hard drugs as severe an offense as a sale, making penalties conform to the new criminal code, and consolidation and simplification of criminal drug laws.

—Treatment and rehabilitation being kept confidential "to encourage voluntary entrance into drug treatment programs, licensing and regulation of nonmethadone and methadone treatment programs, and permitting "pre-trial diversion" under which an offender is let go and his record expunged after successful completion of a drug treatment program.

In other business Thursday, the Senate passed and sent back to the House its own version of a bill to once again make Nov. 11 "Veterans Day" in Ohio.

The federal government, in changing several holidays to make them fall on Monday—providing government employees with a three-day weekend—included Veterans Day. The Ohio General Assembly gave the revamping its stamp of approval.

Since then, veterans organizations have put up a cry about losing Nov. 11—day of the signing of the armistice in 1918—as their holiday.

The Senate substituted its own bill for the House version and passed it 30-

0. It had 34 sponsors, one more than it has senators. The extra sponsor was former Sen. Robert Stockdale of Kent, Ohio, who retired and was replaced. Sen. Robert T. Secrest, who carried the bill on the floor, said the House would agree to the Senate version, which carries a House bill number designation.

The Senate defeated—by a 15-15 tie vote—a bill to allow county auditors to increase the fees they could charge for each real estate title transfer from 35 cents to $1. Opponents contended it was exorbitant.

Pension Reform Plans Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has nailed down enough provisions protecting private pension benefits to at least ease fears of many workers that they may reach retirement age only to find expected pensions have vanished.

But much work remains to be done on the massive pension reform bill, which both the Senate and the House have passed in the same general form. Apparently it will be at least a month before a reconciled version is ready for final action by both chambers.

The Senate and the House bills agree in principle on most of the major issues directly affecting the estimated 30 million persons, nearly half the private nonfarm labor force, who are enrolled in company pension plans.

Any compromise agreed on seems certain to provide that nearly all pension plan participants who have been enrolled for 15 years, in some cases less, will be entitled to retirement age to the full pension rights that have built up in their accounts — even if they change jobs or quit work prematurely.

No longer, for example, would a pension plan be allowed to require that the worker remain with the same company until age 65 in order to obtain pension rights.

California Strike Over

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph Alioto announced early today the end to an eight-day strike by city employees that had halted public transportation here for thousands of commuters.

Buses, streetcars and cable cars were expected to be rolling again in time for the afternoon rush hour.

Alioto had said earlier that a settlement was near, but that claim was disputed by a union lawyer. The strike shut down all of the city's public transit, affecting some 350,000 daily commuters.

Word of the impending settlement circulated after agreement by both sides on a $9.5 million pay package. The city originally had offered $5.5 million in response to the union's demand for a $16 million annual pay boost.

OYC School Inmate Treated For Burns

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — A 16-year-old inmate at the Ohio Youth Commission's Indian River School, David Pfaff, has been returned to custody of the commission after being treated for burns and smoke inhalation at a Canton hospital.

Supt. Gerald Novak said Thursday the youth set his clothing and bed at the school on fire.

Novak said damage to the room totaled about $175.

To help make sure that money will be there to meet such entitlements, the Senate and House already have agreed generally on funding standards. Enough would have to be put aside each year to cover the future liabilities built up in that year. Companies would have to catch up on funding of past liabilities but would have a long time — 30 to 40 years, depending on the final determination, to do so.

As a further backup, an insurance system would be set up in the Labor Department. Pension plans would pay premiums and benefits, up to certain limits, would be insured. If the government insurance system had to pay off, it would have a claim — the limits to be determined — on the assets of the company involved.

One issue on which the Senate and House bills differ widely is over ways by which an employee might be able to take his pension rights with him if he changes jobs.

The Senate bill proposed a voluntary system that employers could join. The House proposed merely to have the Social Security Administration keep track of the pension rights an employee had built up when he left an employer, and inform him of these when he applied for Social Security benefits.

Craig Pontius Wins Bob Bowsher Award

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Craig Pontius, Teays Valley High School senior is the 1974 winner of the Bob Bowsher Award, presented annually by The Herald to the outstanding senior basketball player in Pickaway County.

CRAIG PONTIUS

The Bob Bowsher Memorial Award was named in honor of a Circleville

High School athlete who gave his life for his country in Europe during World War II.

Bowsher was a leader and a true team player as well as a fine athlete at Circleville. Originated in 1948, the first award was presented to James Picklesimer, who starred at Williamsport High School. Last year's recipient of the award was Tom Sykes of Logan Elm High School.

For three years, the blond, left-handed, sharpshooter has been thrilling Teays Valley fans and driving the opposition wild with his radar-fix jump shots and quickness on his driving layups which kept the lights burning on the scoreboards.

Always a team player, Craig was a ball-hawk on defense and uncanny with his passes to set up buckets for the Vikings.

Whenever the Vikings needed the key basket or big play, it was usually Craig who was elected to get the job done.

An interesting sidelight to this year's award is the fact that for the first time in the history of the Bowsher Award, it has gone to the son of a former award winner.

Craig's dad, Bob, was the second winner of the coveted trophy when he gained the recognition as a member of the Walnut team in 1949.

Another highlight in the presentation this year is that Craig's coach, Bob Hoover, was also a Bowsher trophy winner in 1960 when he starred on the hardwoods for the Ashville team.

Honors have followed Craig around like a hungry puppy at mealtime. In his sophomore and junior years he led the Vikings in free throws and averaged 9.8 points a game.

As a junior, Craig began to come into his own with an 18 point game average. His performance earned him an All-Metro League berth, first team All-Central district honors and honorable mention on the All-State squad. He was a contributing factor in the Vikings being District runner-up.

He continued his fine work in his senior year, once again leading the Vikings to District runner-up honors. He picked up another first team berth on the All-Metropolitan League squad and was a repeater on the All-District star squad.

He compiled a 15.4 point average with a 50.2 shooting percentage in regular season play this year and once again was the Vikings playmaker.

When tournament time rolled around, Craig was ready and in four contests scorched the nets for an average of 20.5 points per game.

An all-around young man, Craig is a fine student and a school leader. He was junior class president and a member of the Dramatic, Spanish, Science and 4-H Clubs.

An eight-year member of the 4-H Club, he has held the offices of president, secretary and treasurer. He is also a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church.

He was a member of the Teays Valley golf team in his sophomore year, track team in his junior year and a three-year member of the cross-country team.

Craig plans to attend college after graduation and go into the field of agriculture.

He is the son of Robert and Patricia Pontius, Route 1, Ashville, and has two brothers, Rick and Tom.

Winners of the Bob Bowsher Award beginning in 1948 have been: James

Arab Nations Want Better U.S. Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's Middle East diplomacy has led to a growing desire by Arab states for better relations with the United States, Jordan's King Hussein says.

Hussein said in an interview Thursday that there is a "definite change" in Arab feelings toward the United States.

"It is the result of the steps taken by your government, especially by Dr. Kissinger. There is movement now, instead of the lack of it, which was the case for a very long time," Hussein said.

Hussein was interviewed immediately after his last conference with Kissinger and Joseph J. Sisco, the undersecretary for political affairs. The king undergoes his yearly medical check today at Walter Reed Army Hospital and plans to leave Washington Saturday.

"The United States has contributed significantly to whatever progress has been already made. Dr. Kissinger's dedication to the cause of peace produced encouraging results, and though still much has to be done, I am optimistic," Hussein said.

As a result of the American diplomacy, Arabs everywhere believe "you are really evenhanded" and there is a "growing desire in the entire area to have better relations" with this country, the king said.

Meanwhile, Kissinger told newsmen that peace in the Middle East is being pursued on the most expeditious timetable because "it is in our national interest."

The secretary said that an agreement for disengagement of Syrian and Israeli forces in the Golan Heights area is this nation's top priority objective in the Middle East.

Kissinger spoke to newsmen after a 2½-hour closed meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said Kissinger told the committee that Syria-Israeli differences "are the most difficult" with which he has had to deal.

He said Kissinger would not make any hard predictions, but that he remains "cautiously optimistic."

Oil Shortage Portent Of Future

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Maybe the oil embargo is being lifted and maybe in a few weeks the atmosphere of panic at the filling stations will vanish, but there's a lot else to worry about.

If oil were the only major concern, there might be an excuse to relax and breathe easy. The oil crisis, in fact, may have been just a taste of things to come.

There's a prospect ahead of a long-lasting era of economic instability in the industrial world that could lead to highly unpleasant consequences.

The energy troubles the industrial nations have been experiencing cannot all, by any means, be laid at the door of the Arab embargo. But oil is only one aspect of a developing and worrisome picture.

In the offing are signs of another crunch, this one in raw materials. On top of that, there are likely to be enormous food problems in the years ahead.

The performance of the OPEC — Organization of Petroleum Exporting

Countries — in squeezing the powerful nations has generated excited thinking in so-called "developing" countries. They see that raw material is power.

Will there be more "OPEC's"? The "poor" countries are becoming acutely aware of their potential. Metals and minerals vital to the Western world's economic health lie under the ground of many a poor country.

A highly placed Washington expert says that six of the 13 metals most essential to American economic health are in short supply and must be more than 50 per cent imported. In another 10 years, that will be the case in nine of them.

The United Nations is about to hold a session on the whole picture of raw materials and that could quicken an urge to make big nations dance the little nations' tune.

Is there new crisis ahead? The concerned experts of the Club of Rome, an international study group, think so. Their February "Salzburg statement" had this to say:

"The fact is that the industrial societies operate wastefully and stimulate unnecessary consumption.... World society is torn asunder by growing and intolerable disparities in living standards and opportunities.... Hundreds of millions of men and women live marginal lives.... Nature is pillaged and poisoned for the benefit of the few....

"The present crisis is much deeper than an oil or energy or a food crisis. Its negative effects will have many and diverse repercussions throughout the entire world...."

An era of instability can be generated by an ever-upward push on living costs. Oil, just as an example, pushed up costs of manufacturing, food and services. Along come poor countries with new ideas about raw materials and another push upward is in prospect.

Rain, Snow Cover Parts Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain and snow fell over scattered areas from the Pacific Northwest to the Great Lakes region today while thunderstorms rumbled over southern Texas.

Elsewhere, fair and calm weather was the rule.

Travel and livestock advisories were posted for northeastern Montana, where near blizzard conditions were reported Thursday night. Snowfall was light but strong winds caused blowing and drifting.

Wisconsin was alerted to expect up to 3 inches of snow in some sections. An inch whitened Rochester, Minn., and Williston, N.D., during the night.

Snow squalls powered by wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour swept North Dakota late Thursday. Drifts up to 3 feet deep were common in northwestern areas of the state.

Severe thunderstorms lashed southern Texas late Thursday night. Kingsville, Tex., was hard hit with ping-pong-size hail, damaging winds and heavy rains.

Weather

Occasional rain likely today and tonight. High today, mid 40s. Low tonight, upper 30s. Chance of showers likely Saturday, high, low 40s. Probability of precipitation, 60 per cent today, 70 per cent tonight and 50 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Thursday were: high, 49; low, 30.

Gasoline Taxes Won't Rise Richley Declares

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's transportation chief predicted today no increase in the state gasoline tax in 1974 even though his department will lose more than $40 million this year as a result of the energy crisis.

"I don't anticipate any increase to raise gasoline tax revenues," said J. Phillip Richley, director of the Ohio Department of Transportation. "Gov. Gilligan has said he is not interested in raising taxes at all."

However, Richley said, "If we reach a point where federal dollars are wasted or lost, we'll have to decide through the governor and the General Assembly.

"So far, we have been able to match federal funds, and we're not at the point where we will lose any federal dollars."

But he added, "If the situation continues through this year, we will be in serious trouble."

The state levies seven cents tax on a gallon of gasoline, and the federal

St. Pat's Day Message Given

68-Year-Old Man Injured In Shooting

A sixty-eight-year-old Pickaway County resident was treated and released from Berger Hospital for superficial gunshot wounds received at his home, 8:31 p.m. Thursday.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, Kermit Thomas, Route 2, went to see who was at the back door of his residence when a male subject fired a shot at the house.

Authorities believe a 410 shotgun was used. Standing approximately 10 feet away, the unknown assailant, shot once, striking Thomas in the right side of the chest.

Thomas stated he could not identify the person, but felt it was the same person who turned around in his driveway earlier that evening.

Mrs. Thomas notified Sheriff's Authorities when the shooting occurred.

Grand Ole Opry Moving From Old Auditorium

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — American music walks away from a childhood homeplace tonight. The Grand Ole Opry is moving.

The Ryman Auditorium walls, echoing fiddles and banjos since 1942, will hear no more "Wabash Cannonballs" from Roy Acuff, no more of Minnie Pearl's "Howdees."

"Curtains" at the Ryman tonight is just that: the last show in the barny, brick building that has been home for the Opry most of its life.

In these last few weeks, nostalgia has crept into local music circles like cold air seeps into the Ryman in winter.

Last Saturday night, Minnie Pearl broke into tears on stage just after finishing the last bars of "Jealous Hearted Me." On the narrow wooden stage, she clutched her price-tagged bonnet to her face before the tears ended.

"I'm just a little sad because I'm saying goodbye to a lot of spooks and

Hundreds Seeking Kidnaped Little Girl

SEATTLE (AP) — Few know little Heidi, but seldom a day goes by that hundreds of shoppers, working people and schoolchildren don't watch for her face in the crowd.

The 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson has been missing since Feb. 21 and police say they are sure she was abducted.

"I used to tell her, every night when I tucked her in, 'Remember Heidi, whatever happens, mommy and daddy always love you,'" said the mother of shadows," she said later.

She and the other 61 Opry members will be saying hello to $15 million worth of glass, carpets, air-conditioning and electronics. Officials of the Opry and some of the stars, notably Acuff, have insisted the new Opry house will maintain the authenticity and casual air of the Ryman.

Built as a church in 1890, the rambling, gothic structure has nearly no space for dressing rooms, few production facilities and too little space for the crowds who line up for tickets on Friday and Saturday nights.

The new Opry house will increase seating capacity by more than one third and provide space for recording equipment and dressing rooms for the Opry cast. WSM radio, which has broadcast America's oldest live radio show since the late 1920s, and the National Life and Accident Co., owners of the Opry, bill the new structure as the world's largest broadcasting studio.

The caring and concern are not the Petersons' alone. Thousands of volunteer housewives, students, boy scouts, merchants and laborers have mobilized in the search. Heidi has become almost a family member in many households.

An initial and massive search turned up no sign of her. Undaunted, hundreds of housewives began covering the city with posters bearing the picture and description of the girl.

Nearly 50,000 leaflets have been distributed and the search is spreading to other towns and cities of the Northwest and the nation.

"There's probably been more response on this case than any other I've been on in 16 years," said police Detective Bill Baughman, one of two officers assigned full time to Heidi's case.

In schools, children take a lesson to be careful of strangers and offer a prayer for Heidi. Police, merchants and shoppers spent an afternoon downtown hunting without results after a man said he thought he had seen the girl with an older woman.

At the Peterson home, overlooking the boats on Portage Bay and with the Cascade Mountains in the background, the waiting is hard. The balding Peterson, carpenter by trade and Swedish by descent, holds his wife's hand. She is 36 and wonders if it isn't harder because she became a mother relatively late.

Mrs. Peterson last saw her daughter the afternoon of Feb. 21 as Heidi and brother Carl, 2½, played in front of the modest family home. Mrs. Peterson left for a short trip to the grocery store.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took some broad losses today under the pressure of rising short-term interest rates and some uncertainties in the Arab oil picture.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.39 at 884.39, and declining issues held a lead of better than 2 to 1 over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

"The market is reacting to the recent rise in short-term interest rates and a little disappointment that the oil situation isn't more clear," said John Doherty at Blyth Eastman Dillon.

Alpha Portland Industries was the Big Board's most-active stock, unchanged at 16½, after a 320,100-share block trade. Power Test Corp. said it had bought 320,000 shares, increasing its holdings in the company to slightly more than 20 per cent.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was down .47 to 101.54.

Local Girl Recommends Career In Air Force

Bambi Blackard Hunter, a 1973 graduate of Teays Valley High School, is an informative specialist with the United States Air Force. As a journalist with the women in the Air Force, Ms. Hunter is called upon by various clubs and groups in the Ft. Worth Area where she is stationed to make speeches on the Air Force.

She recently wrote a speech on the career possibilities of the WAF.

Push Ohio Site For U.S. Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to establish a national transportation research center in Ohio was presented Thursday to a Senate Public Works subcommittee.

The U. S. Department of Transportation recommended leasing a building from Ohio to house the center. The center would test highway vehicles and parts to make sure they comply with federal safety standards.

The center would adjoin Ohio's Transportation Research Center at East Liberty.

Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, told the subcommittee the state facility, now 70 per cent complete, is "the most comprehensive and largest vehicle testing facility in the world" and that it made good sense to locate the national center there.

The federal government originally had planned to build such a facility itself, and in 1971 Congress appropriated $9.6 million to get the project under way.

But government officials testified that leasing the building from Ohio would save taxpayers money in the long run.

Metzenbaum Poll Percentage Small

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum Thursday released results of a poll which asked his Ohio constituents whether President Nixon should resign.

Metzenbaum said the poll was included in a news letter sent to 500,000 Ohioans. He said 38,000 persons replied.

But Metzenbaum said only 1,000 of the replies were used to formulate the percentage responses. No explanation was offered as to why the other replies were not tallied.

"This poll shows the people of Ohio — and they reflect the views of people everywhere — have lost faith in Mr. Nixon's ability to govern," Metzenbaum told a news conference.

Metzenbaum said the poll shows that 47.4 per cent of those tallied believe President Nixon should be impeached or should resign. A second group, 28.7 per cent, wants continued investigation and more facts, while 23.9 per cent thought the issue should be dropped and investigations ended.

Although 52.6 per cent of those polled favored more investigation or an end to the matter Metzenbaum said he thought the 47.4 per cent was more significant.

Metzenbaum was appointed to his present term in January by Gov. John Gilligan to replace Sen. William B. Saxbe, who resigned to become attorney general.

Metzenbaum is now running for the Democratic nomination for a full term against former astronaut John Glenn.

Through her career, she has had the opportunity of meeting new people, traveling, and as she puts it in her speeches, "becoming a more aware person."

While at Teays Valley, Ms. Hunter was active in girls' track, intramurals, chorus, dramatic club, FHA, and the newspaper staff. She says she found herself at loose ends after graduation. Both her parents were affiliated with the Air Force and she became interested.

In her talks, Ms. Hunter traces the history of the WAF division of the armed forces from its early stages during World War II through its official founding in 1948 with the passage of the Women's Armed Services Integration Act. Army women who served the air force division during the war were nicknamed "AIR-WACS".

Ms. Hunter urges young women who have found themselves also at loose ends to consider the Air Force. The possibilities of the WAF's are virtually unlimited and like this young woman, many are attracted because although they have a career in mind, they cannot go to college for such a career.

Robin Hartinger Named Winner In Xerox Contest

Six-year-old Robin Hartinger was recently notified she had been selected as a winner in the Xerox Education Awards for 1973. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hartinger, 599 N. Court St., won a General Electric cassette player-recorder with three educational cassettes.

Robin received her prize in the mail a few days ago. She is a student at Atwater Elementary school.

Three Injured In City Mishap

Three persons were injured and the driver cited in an accident 6:15 p.m. Thursday at the Mundy Pontiac lot on the Lancaster Pike.

According to the report of Ptl. James Ford, Rickey J. Danner, 19, Route 2, Laurelville, was turning onto the Lancaster Pike from E. Main St. and swerved his car to the right to avoid a line of stopped traffic.

His auto struck a car on the Mundy lot knocking it into another vehicle on the lot.

Danner and two passengers in his car, Robert Danner, 31, Laurelville, and Robert Covell, 42, Route 1, Stoutsville, all claimed injuries in the mishap.

Ford cited Rickey Danner for failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead.

Driver Cited In Accident

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Earl Kuhn cited Larry Edward Ruhl, 24, Newark, for reckless operation, when he was involved in a single-car accident 5 a.m. Friday.

Traveling on U. S. Route 22, the vehicle skidded sideways off the right berm down a small grade.

Money Taken From House

Gary L. Wilson, 1810 Sioux Drive, reported to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy J. Phillip Brown, thieves entered his home sometime between 5:15 p.m. and 11 p.m. Thursday.

An AM-FM radio and money was taken from the master bedroom of the house.

Estimated value of the items was $509.95.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

The Russians sing a confusing variety of tunes these days.

Careful perusal of internal and external Moscow propaganda might engender serious doubts about peaceful coexistence, even as the Kremlin prepares for another Soviet-American summit.

First, on the Middle East — What the Russians say directly to Arabs is a long distance from sounding friendly to the United States as the Americans quest for Middle East settlement. It sounds almost as if the Russians fear there might be a reasonable settlement and feel impelled to head it off.

Second, on the international Communist scene — What is being said to parties around the world is that peaceful coexistence and detente are designed to hasten the triumph of Communist revolution and that Moscow remains faithful to that world goal. Third, what's being said at home — this suggests that some highly influential elements have doubts about the wisdom of the policy being pursued by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Communist party general secretary. Such people, notably the high military brass, seem to fear he'll give away some valuable advantage in return for prospective trade benefits.

Moscow propaganda beamed in abundance to the Arabs sounds unrelievedly hostile to American efforts to bring about Middle East stability. The reader gets the impression that Moscow at once fears there will be a settlement and fears there won't be.

Middle East turbulence can threaten what Brezhnev hopes to gain from the detente and thus he might welcome a measure of calm. At the same time the settlement taking shape is an American one. Clearly Moscow worries about the Americans walking off with all the marbles, eroding the influence the Russians have been so carefully and expensively building for 20 years.

Moscow cheered the Arab oil boycott, warned Arabs that Israel and "forces protecting her" want to perpetuate the occupation of Arab lands, and claimed that any concessions from Washington and Jerusalem were forced upon them by a "new balance of power" brought about by Soviet policy.

David Rockefeller of Chase Manhattan Bank is extolled in one Soviet voice for espousing the idea of doing business with the Russians, but the voice that reaches Arabs blasts him as trying to impose capitalist concepts on Egypt's economy.

What does Moscow tell Communists around the world?

Typical are the assurances carried recently in a series of articles in the authoritative journal Party Life. These were deemed so important that they were broadcast in 17 Asian and European languages.

The articles angrily attacked mavericks such as those in the Spanish party who complain that Moscow, intent on Soviet state interests, is abandoning the cause of world revolution in its detente policies.

Moscow reminds them that the detente-coexistence policy was conceived as a weapon of strategy for world revolution, endorsed by a world Communist meeting in Moscow in 1969 and reaffirmed in 1971 at the 24th Soviet party congress, where the principle was stressed that detente meant sharpening, not lessening, of ideological warfare.

"In its documents, the international Communist movement has more than once qualified the policy of peaceful coexistence," said Party Life. "It has underlined that peaceful coexistence ... is a form of class struggle ... The policy of peaceful coexistence helps give impetus to the class struggle against imperialism at national and world levels."

These articles insisted that "detente brings about new and more favorable premises to intensify the struggle for unity" of Communists around the world.

And what about Soviet military leaders?

It's not unusual for the military to express reservations about policy pursued by the civilian politicians. It did so in Nikita S. Khrushchev's time and in fact represented then a force capable of tipping the political balance, first in Khrushchev's favor and finally against him.

This political potential makes the military respectfully heeded, and in the post-Stalin era — though never in Stalin's time — it has made its views clear both in its own specialized periodicals and in the party press to which it has easy access.

Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko is a recent new member of the 16-member Politburo and his presence at that pinnacle of power insures a stern military eye on any tendency of the civilians to downgrade the armed forces' importance, especially in terms of its share of the national budget.

In the military and party press Grechko and other top officers lately have been sounding as if they feared Brezhnev's policies might carry detente too far.

Wellston School Official Loses

JACKSON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County Common Pleas Court Judge Thomas Mitchell today declared void the hiring of Ralph Crabtree as business manager of the Wellston School District.

"In this case, Crabtree himself prepared the contract and it included several items of compensation and provisions never agreed to officially by the board ... which didn't take place in any open meeting," the judge declared.

A taxpayers' suit filed by William Starkey sought to oust Crabtree, who was hired at a salary of $15,498, on Jan. 12.

The hiring of Crabtree, who had been a member of the school board for two years, had been a point of contention during a teachers strike in the district last month.

Clark Gable's Son Handsome, Active

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — He will turn 13 this month, and he's like most other boys his age — hyperactive and more interested in sports than girls. He leads a normal life despite his famous name: John Clark Gable.

The boy marks his birthday March 20, celebrating it, as always, out of the public eye. That's the way his mother, Kay Williams Gable, wants it.

John Clark Gable was one of the most famous babies in Hollywood history. His father, called king of the movie world but a self-styled "lucky slob from Ohio," had been childless in four marriages. In 1955, he married Kay Williams Spreckles, who had two children by her marriage to sugar heir Adolph Spreckels.

Kay Gable became pregnant after the first two months of the marriage, but she suffered a miscarriage in the 10th week. Then in July of 1960, when he was on location for "The Misfits" in Reno, Gable learned that his wife was pregnant again.

"It's going to be a boy," he announced beamingly, and he chose the name, John Clark.

The star, who had performed some strenuous stunts for "The Misfits," was stricken with a heart attack and died at the age of 59 on Nov. 16, 1960. His son was born 124 days later.

From the beginning, Kay Gable vowed to keep her famous son out of the limelight. He has rarely been photographed, and has always attended private schools. As might be expected, he is a handsome boy, and athletic. "He likes sports, and he's very well coordinated," says his mother.

But he follows his father in being a daredevil. Gable had a passion for fast foreign cars, and he enjoyed racing his motorcycle with cronies through the streets of the San Fernando Valley late at night, reaching speeds of 100 miles per hour.

"I took John Clark's motorcycle away from him," Kay Gable, 56, said. "He was doing too many wheelies."

She referred to the cyclist's stunt of riding on the back wheel only.

Mother and son recently moved to a comfortable home in Beverly Hills after spending the boy's first dozen years at the Gable ranch on Petit Avenue in Encino. The 19-acre place with seven-bedroom house had become too big for them.

Mrs. Gable, who has not remarried, owns copies of the star's movies and sometimes runs them at home, so John Clark can observe his father's style. He is impressed, but, said his mother, shows no signs of following the Gable profession.

Drug Raids Made In Greene County

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Authorities in Greene County have arrested 35 persons on drug charges and were searching for at least 10 others in connection with county grand jury indictments.

The grand jury handed up the indictments Wednesday, and within hours sheriff's deputies arrested three persons and confiscated 40 pounds of marijuana.

Later, authorities said, about 60 officers raided homes in Xenia, Fairborn, Yellow Springs, Cedarville and Jamestown to arrest persons named in the indictments.

Steubenville Man Given Board Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Steubenville man, William Joseph Michl, has been reappointed by Gov. John J. Gilligan to the board of the Jefferson County Technical Institute District.

Gilligan also announced Thursday the reappointment of John F. Hellebush, of Cincinnati, to the Ohio Wildlife Council and Bartholomew M. Catherino of Cleveland to the Ohio Air Quality Development Authority.

Confucius Revisited

For reasons which may be superfluous, the big debate in China is over Confucius. The ancient Chinese philosopher's common sense approach to life and his ability to express much in few words apparently exasperates those who deal in perpetual revolution and idolation of the state.

However, if Peking sincerely wants to disavow one of its more important cultural heritages, the West might consider adopting him for its own. Consider this sage advice: "For one word a man is often deemed to be wise, and for one word he is often deemed to be foolish. We ought to be careful indeed what we say."

Or: "When you know a thing, to hold that you know it; and when you do not know a thing, to allow that you do not know it: this is knowledge."

As another way of expressing the Golden Rule: "When I do not wish men to do to me, I also wish not to do to them."

Of the lesser intellects which now rule China, Confucius might have intended this admonition: "Learning without thought is labor lost; thought without learning is perilous."

Patrick's Sainted Image

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—It's getting to be time to anger the Irish-Americans once more by reminding the more stalwart of them that St. Patrick was an Englishman. Or, at least, a Welshman, or perhaps — of all things — a Frenchman.

He wasn't born on March 17, he died that day — or somewhat near that day, calendars having dilled and dallied in the interim. He was born in A.D. 387, 373, 386, 389, or 395. He didn't chase the snakes out of the Emerald Isle. There weren't any. He imported the shamrock from France when he returned to Ireland as a missionary, after having labored there earlier as a slave-boy shepherd. Inasmuch as the place where he was shanghaied as a boy was either England or Wales, he was therefore a Roman citizen, that part of the world then occupied by the emperor's legionnaires.

The Hallmark Card people say that, per capita, many more St. Patrick's Day cards are exchanged in the U.S. than in Ireland. Authorities credit the saint with not only bringing in the shamrocks but also teaching the Irish how to distill uisgebaugh — pronounced whiskey. They insist, however, that he was dry all his life. They also swear that he may have had something to do with a foul joke played on Scotland. The gift of an Irish atrocity named the bagpipe.

He introduced the Roman alphabet to the little people, founded more than 300 churches and schools and baptized about 120,000.

His thumbprints are all over America and have been since we've had a history. There was an Irishman aboard the Santa Maria, and there are about 20,000,000 Americans of Irish descent, seven or eight times as many as there are Irish living in Ireland.

That miserably unromantic new post office point-of-origin stamp — "U.S. Postal Service," etc. — will knock a lot of fun out of some of the 11,000,000 St. Patrick's Day cards being sent this week from such places as St. Patrick, Mo.; Ireland, Tex.; Emerald, Wisc.; Erin, Ala.; Killarney, W.Va.; Green City, Mo.; and a flock of Dublins in Arkansas, California, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas and Virginia.

Literary giants have been for and a'gin Ireland since they could toddle. The list ranges from John Locke to George Bernard Shaw. Locke was kind:

O Ireland, isn't it grand you look — Like a bride in her rich adornin'? With all the pent-up love in my heart I bid you the top o' the mornin'! Shaw was, well, rotten: At last I went to Ireland. 'Twas raining cats and dogs: I found no music in the glens, Nor purple in the bogs And as far as angels' laughter in The smelly Liffey's tide — Well, my Irish daddy said it, But the dear old humbug lied. If the Irish had had the services of an anti-defamation society when they came to the U.S. by the hundreds of thousands in the course of the potato famine they would have been gently carried into the mainstream of American life instead of having to fight their way into it. They were exploited pitilessly by the people of their chosen land, principally the 19th century equivalent of today's WASPs. Employment doors were as barred to them as securely as to blacks and Chinese. Many who got no farther inland than New York City were forced to live in the parks or were stuffed into vile tenements. Those who penetrated the land found themselves in coal mines, or digging the Erie Canal. Irish girls became backstairs maids; the

The Women

By JIM BISHOP

A day comes when a fella realizes that he lives surrounded by females and — more to the point — is conditioned by them. Four grown daughters guarantee that a man can accidentally hang himself in his own bathroom.

I'm the dominant type. Everybody around here allows me to roar with rage when I am in a rage to roar; then they kiss me on the forehead, and I do whatever it is they want me to do.

The most important thing I have learned about women is how much I do not know. They are veritable encyclopedias of mystery. They come in all auras from hour to hour — happy, tearful, moody, sensitive, cuddly, shy, brazen, secretive — oh, that word secretive!

If I sniff that something is, to coin a cliché, afoot, I ask what the hell is going on and get five responses. Or, you might ask a wife and any three daughters what is troubling a fourth, and you get four kinds of shrugs.

As age creeps upon my worn shoulders, I insist that I have learned basic truths. One is that it is not good for me to think I'm being degraded because I do my work in the garage, while her sewing machine is in a well-lighted, warm guest room.

Never compliment anyone by saying, "Gee, your skin looks better." Do not enter an empty room without knocking. Parenthetically, why is it that women at home are always dressing or undressing?

Do not shout through a bathroom door, "You have been under that shower 40 minutes and you're going to look like a prune." Do not send flowers to wife on days other than anniversaries or birthdays unless you can prove that you were really bowling Wednesday night.

Bite your tongue before stating, "I always liked you in that dress." When she comes home beaming with a new outfit and shows you what a steal it was, marked down from $89.90 to $8.90, do not ask if she carries her own red young men fell into hard labor in a budding industrial revolution ... or became cops, barkeepers, and, providentially, politicians who demanded better treatment — and got it through the ballot.

The sons and daughters of Patrick prospered, by and large, but not because of anything except the sweat of their brows. They have a right to march and sing and shout and have a toddy or two this weekend. Not only in America, the land they so enriched, but in the oddest places elsewhere in the world. There is, for example, always a St. Patrick's Day Parade in Tel Aviv.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, March 15, the 74th day of 1974. There are 291 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 44 B.C., Julius Caesar was assassinated.

On this date:

In 1603, the French navigator and explorer, Samuel de Champlain, sailed for the New World.

In 1767, the seventh American president, Andrew Jackson, was born. In 1820, Maine entered the Union as the 23rd state.

In 1874, France assumed a protectorate over the central Indochina region of Annam, which had been under Chinese control.

In 1916, a U.S. force of 12,000 soldiers under Gen. John J. Pershing was ordered into Mexico to capture the revolutionary Mexican leader Pancho Villa.

In 1943, during the Pacific war, Japanese planes raided the Australian city of Darwin.

Ten years ago, French President Charles de Gaulle began a 10-day visit to Mexico and French territories in the Western Hemisphere.

Five years ago, bloody border fighting was reported between Soviet and Communist Chinese forces.

One year ago, President Nixon recalled Ambassador David Bruce from retirement to head the new American diplomatic establishment in Communist China.

Today's birthdays: Singer Eddy Arnold is 56. Actor George Brent is 70. Bandleader Harry James is 58.

Thought for today: Youth comes but once in a lifetime. — Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, American poet, 1807-1882.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The only mail I received today was from the Easter Seal Society. At first I thought, "Oh, no, another one to give to. Yesterday it was the Disabled American Veterans. Last week it was the National Federation of the Blind."

Then I began to think of August 13, 1958 — the day I entered University Hospital in Columbus and found out that I had Polio and would never walk again without the aid of crutches. Who paid my bill? The March of Dimes. How much of a bill? I don't know but it would have been very high. I was in the hospital for 79 days plus they paid for a special wheel chair, braces, and crutches.

We are regular givers to our church but are we regular givers to the many organizations in our community that need our help? I wish I had room in this letter to list each and every one of them.

Lets all get in there and give and if you never need their help, Thank God for your good health. If you do need their help you will Thank God that they were there, ready and willing to give you the help you need. God Bless all of them. From one who knows,

Construction Firm Purchase Noted

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Mosser Construction Inc. has been purchased from bankrupt U.S. Financial by four Mosser employees, the new officers announced Thursday.

Purchase price was $2.3 million in cash and secured notes, president Robert G. Weiler said. The new firm will be called WMOG Inc., he added.

Mosser has been rated among the 400 largest construction firms in the nation in recent years, Weiler said, and has $60 million in construction under contract.

U.S. Financial filed for bankruptcy in July 1973, Weiler said.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My 18-year-old daughter is in a mental hospital. She had bouts of anger which were uncontrollable and frightening to all of us.

Now, with drugs, she has quieted down and the doctors think she can soon come home.

We are terrified and want to know if it is safe, even if she continues to take the drugs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D., N. J.
Dear Mr. and Mrs. D.:

During the last 15 or 20 years a virtual explosion of amazing new drugs has revolutionized psychiatric treatment.

These psychotropic drugs have virtually cleared many of our private and public institutions and given new life to those who might otherwise be permanently confined.

Your daughter will be carefully studied, screened and observed for a long time before she is discharged in your care. Safety for her and her family is the key to the ultimate decision to discharge her.

Many so-called "mental patients" are now treated in doctors' offices, and as ambulatory patients in clinics. They can again live at home and function normally in their jobs and in their community, effectively and with dignity. This, in essence, is the ultimate objective of all psychiatric treatment.

The rehabilitation, without stigma or shame, can best be accomplished by

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Philip Long says the Internal Revenue Service is a bully that establishes its own arbitrary standards of justice, sometimes in defiance of the courts, and then threatens citizens who fail to comply.

The intense, grayling real estate operator from Bellevue, Wash., is now in his fifth year of contesting what he considers to be an unjustified demand for $38,144 in back taxes.

Long, 57, and his wife, Sue, 31, have spent close to $20,000 in research, in pressing a freedom of information court case, in travel, correspondence, publicity and newspaper advertisements.

The Longs have managed to pry loose information on how the IRS reaches its decisions, but they still have no verdict from the Tax Court on whether their appeal for tax relief has been successful.

They claim a U.S. District Court ruling that the IRS must make available information on its techniques and procedures is actively being thwarted as a matter of policy.

The IRS disputes the Longs on every point. It maintains it doesn't threaten taxpayers or abort the law, but that it has an obligation to collect what is owed the government.

But information obtained by the Longs from the IRS's own files suggests the service does rely heavily on subjective decisions and that its policies may vary from place to place.

If, for instance, you were a delinquent taxpayer in the Albany, N.Y., district in fiscal 1972 there was about a 60 per cent chance that your assets were subjected to levy or seizure. In Boston the chances were cut almost in half, and in Wichita and Cheyenne the chances were only 15 or 16 per cent.

Long and his wife claim to have found other questionable practices: —The IRS as a matter of policy challenges many individual and small business returns, "not because there is a question of them being wrong but simply to obtain additional funds for the IRS."

—Agents have wide discretionary power to negotiate assessments. Sometimes agents offer to lower the amount in order to bait taxpayers into settling, regardless of the merits.

—You are guilty until you prove your innocence. If the IRS says you owe money you must pay or risk having your paycheck or other property seized. Then you can go about proving having your daughter live in the secure confines of her family. When her symptoms are controlled by the careful balancing of her drug intake she will flourish with your emotional support and understanding.

My Husband constantly gets pressure blisters on his hands. He works with machinery. What is the best way to treat these blisters at home?

Mrs. N. N., Ind.

Dear Mrs. N.:

Of course, the best way to handle blisters is to prevent them. Protective gloves, moleskin or foam rubber padding can be used so that blisters are avoided.

As you suggest, blisters are the result of pressure, burns, or irritation of the skin. When once a blister forms, the collection of fluid should be released.

A simple method is to clean the surface around the blister with soap and water or alcohol. A needle, sterilized in hot water, can then be inserted into the edge of the skin adjacent to the blister. The fluid will come out through this opening.

The object of this technique is to be sure that the skin that covers the blister remains intact for protection. The blister is then covered with a Bandaid to prevent fluid from accumulating again.

your innocence.

While the latter might be so in some cases, the Longs themselves demonstrate it isn't always so. They still haven't paid.

Long has for the past 13 years been paying himself $600 a month to run his private corporations, set up to oversee about 60 duplex houses he owns or manages. The IRS views two of the corporations as personal holding companies, subject to extremely high taxes.

Long claims the IRS position reduced his wages to $150 a month and denied him many expense deductions.

Most Miners Back On Job

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Leaders in the few areas of the southern West Virginia coal fields not yet back to work were urging their men to return on the next shift Thursday night.

More than half the 27,000 miners who struck were already back to work, a spokesman for the coal industry said.

"It looks like a good start," said United Mine Workers District 29 President Richard Carter, whose district covers about half the strike area. "We've got better than 50 per cent back and those that are not working are holding meetings."

A spokesman for the West Virginia Coal Association said it was believed that some members were reluctant to return to work because meetings had previously been set for the weekend.

But Bill Sparks, a spokesman for some of the miners in Kanawha County during the strike, was urging the men to return to work on the next shift, even though they had originally planned to wait until a Sunday meeting.

"It's to the advantage of all the men to go back to work as soon as possible," he said. Sparks said there might be "possible further legal action against the locals" if the men did not return. Sparks said he planned to return to work today.

Joe Taylor, a UMW local president in Boone County, was also urging that the men return to work on the next scheduled shift. Boone and Kanawha counties were two of the four "problem areas" Thursday.

On Books And Activities At The Library

This week, it is difficult to decide whether to mention books for spring or winter activities. Perhaps we can hedge, and suggest a potpourri suitable for either season.

For truly pessimistic types, we suggest "The Complete Guide to Cross-Country Skiing and Touring" by Art Takle. If the thought of alpine skiing produces a quivery feeling in your stomach, you may be interested in ski-touring. Many Americans have taken to this Scandinavian version of the sport and this book outlines basic equipment and techniques.

For the more optimistic, "Basic Boating: Piloting and Seamanship, Rev. Ed." by Howard L. Andrews provides basic instruction for small boat piloting, as well as detailed chapters on boathandling techniques and skills.

"The Glorious World of Golf" by Peter Dobereiner is not a how-to-book, but a history of the game. Golf enthusiasts will enjoy the action photos many of them in color of the golf superstars.

"How to Design, Build and Maintain Your Swimming Pool" by Stanley Schuler answers the most frequently asked questions of pool owners and prospective owners. If you plan to do your own moving and need some helpful suggestion on techniques of packing, hauling, lifting, renting a trailer, or driving a truck, we suggest George Sullivan's "Do-It-Yourself-Moving."

For gothic fans, Gwendoline Butler's "Sarsen Place" is a Victorian citadel of comfort, and a most unlikely setting for untangling a series of savage crimes. "Dark Beneath the Pines" by Anne Eliot is a suspense novel about a girl whose uncle-foster father disappears mysteriously from his summer camp in the Adirondacks. After a search she finds the uncle, his money, and love.

This week's thriller-chiller is "Witchfinder" by Maurice Hilliard, a tense story of modern satanism, and a woman who discovers to her horror that she is to become a victim.

For mystery fans, "It's Murder with Dover" by Joyce Porter—a mixture of come and crime in England. "McQuaid" by Shepard Rifkin is about a New York police detective who cares enough about a murdered friend to try to solve his murder himself.

For those who like true stories of crime, "Dummy" by Ernest Tidyman is the account of the trial, mental hospital and jail experiences of Donald Lang, "the Dummy" who at age 20 murdered Ernestine Williams, a Chicago prostitute.

Helen MacInnes new novel is "The Snare of the Hunter." A young American music critic sets out for Vienna to rescue his ex-love, a Czech refugee, from communist agents. The chase leads through Austria into Italy and Switzerland. In spite of the difficulties their pursuers make, the couple fall in love all over again.

An "old" master of American prose, Richard Armour, offers a lighthearted look at the aging process in "Going Like Sixty." The advantages of being elderly far outweigh the disadvantages according to Armour. One example is being able to choose your own companions instead of entertaining VP's you dislike.

"Maria" by Maria von Trapp is the story of one of the colorful personalities of this century. Baroness von Trapp tells of her childhood, marriage, and escape from Hitler's Germany. The Baroness is the "real Maria" of the "Sound of Music" fame.

"An Eye for a Bird" by Eric Hosking is a biography which will appeal to either bird-watchers or nature photographers. Hosking is a renowned British bird photographer who has traveled all over the world taking pictures of birds in their native habitat and testing photographic and electronic flash equipment.

"First Flight" by J. R. Daniels is a novel of a mysterious crash which may have been sabotage. Suspense builds up as Goddard finds himself co-pilot on a plane he knows is doomed. Alexander Kent's "Command a King's Ship" is a sea-adventure set in the uncharted waters of the East in 1784.

William Robbins' "American Food Scandal" is a muckraking book about the gigantic food business in America. The author shows how the consumer is conned and how some giant combines make huge profits. After you read some of this, you may feel that you never want to eat again—until you see the luscious pictures in "Italian Cooking" and "Chinese Cooking" by Luisa Ruggieri and Lee To Chun, respectively.

Other new non-fiction includes "Sports Cars on Road and Track" by Ray Hutton; "Horses of the World" by Morris and Lugli; and "The Hunter's Game, Gun & Dog Guide" by Robert Scharff.

per gallon average:
FORD LTD.

Ford LTD 4-Door Hardtop.

plus family-size comfort and security.

Good mileage on regular gas in a safe, solid, well-made family car is reassuring news. Especially today. But don't take our word for it. Check the facts: in recent mileage tests supervised by the General Environments Corporation, five new Ford LTD's got from 16.3 mpg.

The test took place from Phoenix to Los Angeles, covering flat and mountainous terrain. Under controlled conditions, the five drivers averaged 18.8 mpg at speeds not exceeding fifty on regular gas with normal dealer prep. Two of the drivers were housewives who got 16.3 and 20.2 mpg respectively. Which proves you don't have to be a professionally to get good gas mileage.

Of course, mileage depends on maintenance, driving habits, total weight, road and driving conditions . . . and you may not get the same results. But by following the driving tips published in The Closer You Look Fuel Economy Book which you can get free at your local Ford Dealer, you'll find the six-passenger Ford LTD rides very efficiently. Even under city driving conditions.

Stop by your local Ford Dealer soon. He'll show you a wide selection of family-size Fords that are right for your family. Because when it comes to your family, comfort, convenience, safety and good gas mileage in a family-size Ford LTD are a tough combination to beat.

Be sure to pick up your free copy of The Closer You Look Fuel Economy Book today. It'll help you save gas and money.

Religious Scholars Eye Streaking

NEW YORK (AP) — Those "streaking" cut-ups may be showing more than they realize, including a subconscious wish to be small children again, immune from care or responsibility.

That and various other impulses to mock the pressures of adult reality are seen by several religious scholars in the current campus antic of running nude through public places.

It may be partly a "protest of the child against the prospect of responsible adulthood," says the Rev. Dr. Seward Hiltner, a noted theologian-psychologist of Princeton Theological Seminary.

"There's a part of all of us that would like to remain basically irresponsible, that wants to go back to uncomplicated childhood."

He says this is especially marked in the "intermediate stage" of growing up.

Such regressions, intermittently, can be helpful, he says. The innate yen for it—for heedless, unblameable childishness—is reflected in the lure of the eternal child, Peter Pan.

It's also seen in the primitive superstition that "men can lose their problems by shedding their clothes," says Dr. Calvin G. Seeveid, a professor of aesthetics at the Institute of Christian Studies, Toronto, Canada.

While pointing out its naive aspects as well as underlying religious-psychological connotations, the theologians also cite its zany side—its echoes of the absurd abandon of ancient rites of spring.

Tax Distribution Measure Passes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The House passed today and sent to the governor for signing into law a bill to assure each county of at least $10,000 a month from the local government fund.

The vote was 82-0.

The idea behind the bill is to assure each county of a minimum amount for budgetary purposes. A final accounting for each county will be made in December.

Current law requires that no county receive less than $150,000 in December, but many get varying amounts earlier in the year.

Use The Classifieds

"It's an absurd gesture in the face of the vaster absurdity around us," says the Rev. Dr. Joseph Sittler, an influential Lutheran theologian of the University of Chicago Divinity School. "In a time of general muck and guff, it's a sort of good, clean swipe across the dirty face of dissimulation."

"In our winter of discontent, compounded by all the administrative rot, it's saying, 'We've had enough. Let's do something real crazy.' The calculated craziness of our times has diminished the spirit of man, but spontaneous madness is a kind of purgation. It has a purgative quality about it."

"The nudity is not so important," Dr. Sittler adds. "We've had plenty of that. It's the running, the incongruity of something suddenly, surprisingly joyful and actual in the midst of what has become an accumulation of expected weariness."

Miss Laura Kay Pickett Bride Of Floyd E. Wogan

The marriage of Miss Laura Kay Pickett and Mr. Floyd Everett Wogan took place 11 a.m. February 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pickett, Route 1, Stoutsville. Mr. Pickett is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. John D. Wogan, Columbus. The single ring ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected for her wedding a floor length gown of pink with a white rose pattern and scalloped lace forming the stand-up collar and the long fitted sleeves. She wore a face framing caplet which held the shoulder length veil worn by her mother when she was married, and she carried her grandmother's blue flowered handkerchief. Her only jewelry was a sweetheart necklace, a present from the bridegroom.

Miss Tonya Johnson was matron of honor for her sister. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of pale pink with loose long sleeves and three inch cuffs. The gown was buttoned down the front and a buckle accented the waistline.

Ring bearer was Master Ronald Pickett Jr., brother of the bride and best man was Mr. John D. Wogan Jr., brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Mr. Bob Johnson and Master Mark Pickett.

The bride's mother was attired in a floor length gown of light blue polyester with full chiffon sleeves and the bridegroom's mother wore a green knit street length gown.

A reception at Duff's in Columbus followed the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded with purple roses. Hostesses were Mrs. Joe Pickett, grandmother of the bride, and Miss Pamela Wogan, sister of the groom.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a red knit pants suit. The couple now resides at Route 1, Amanda.

The bride attended Amanda-Clearcreek High School and Nationwide Beauty College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Linden McKinley High School and currently employed by the Standard Oil Company in Columbus.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Lancaster, Columbus and Laurelville.

Free Diabetes Test Offered March 28

Free diabetes tests will be given March 28, from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Parish House 135 E. Mound Street.

The public is cordially invited to have this health test. This is a blood test, using a drop of blood from the finger. It is most accurate if taken two hours after a normal meal.

It is sponsored by the Pickaway Senior Center (474-4916) through the Diabetes Assn. of Central Ohio.

Early detection of high blood sugar makes the treatment and control of diabetes simple and effective, and offers great promise for a normal, productive, happy and healthy life.

The Diabetes and Arthritis Program of the U.S. Public Health Service estimates that more than two million Americans are victims of diabetes without knowing it.

In extreme cases, hidden diabetics, go into a coma which, for some, will be fatal.

These hidden cases are the main reason why diabetes is still the seventh leading cause of death, and the third leading cause of blindness in the United States.

That's why health authorities are spearheading vigorous diabetes detection drives at state, county and municipal levels throughout the country.

Girl Scout Unit Schedules Workshop

Tri Plains Service Unit of Girl Scouts will meet Wednesday at Ashville Community Park from 9:15 a.m. until 2 p.m. Consultants for the outdoor workshop are Nicki Woods and Barbara Armstrong.

The meeting is open to any registered adult Scout. Baby sitting will be provided. Those attending are asked to refer to the newsletter for items to bring or call the service team for information concerning the event to be held regardless of the weather.

Leaders are asked to give cookie sale money to the chairman by March 20.

DeMolay Mothers Complete Plans To Serve Dinner

Final plans were made for a ham and bean supper by DeMolay Mothers Club at a meeting at the Masonic Temple presided over by Mrs. Jean Schieber. The dinner will be served from 5-7:30 p.m., March 23, in the dining room of the Masonic Temple.

The hostess prize, presented to a DeMolay boy, was given to Larry Schieber.

Refreshments were served to the members and guests by Mrs. Dorothy Thompson.

The next regular meeting will be March 25th.

Historical Society Schedules Speaker

MISS AMY CURTISS

Amy Curtiss will be speaker for the 8 p.m., March 21 meeting of Pickaway County Historical Society in its meeting room at the museum.

Miss Curtiss was one of 25 girls from all over Ohio who participated in a 16 day trip to the Soviet Union sponsored by the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council.

These girls, the first American Scouts to visit a Communist country, went to Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev.

OFWC Schedules Legislation Day

Central Ohio River District of Ohio Federation of Women's Club will meet at the Holiday Inn, Portsmouth, for Legislation Day on March 19. Portsmouth Junior Women's City Club will host the event.

The function of this meeting is to bring to club women knowledgeable speakers on current issues and legislation and to bring them an opportunity to ask questions, clarify ideas and carry back information to their own community.

Call to order will be 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Vernon E. Penwell, president of CORD presiding. Mrs. Craig Allen, district legislation chairman, will present the program. Topics will concern election spending reform, vocational education and penalties of child abuse laws.

Mrs. Tom Phillips, CORD sewing contest chairman, will narrate a style show featuring fashions made by high school students and clubwomen in the district. Winners will be chosen and sent to OFWC Convention in April for state competition.

Combined Circles Meet At Calvary Church Annex

Circles of Calvary United Methodist Church met together recently in the church annex. Mrs. Dale DeLong, president, opened the meeting with a reading "Baking A Cake In Indonesia" followed with a prayer.

The visitation committee reported 26 visits made during February. All books for the reading course are now available and a printed list was given to members. To complete the course four books, one from each category, plus "Out Look" are to be read.

Two Easter flowers are to be purchased to decorate the sanctuary and will then be given to shut-ins.

Discussion was held concerning the Mother-Daughter party for which a carry-in dinner is scheduled. Plans will be completed at a later date.

An invitation from Good Shepherd United Methodist Church for the inter-church meeting on March 25 in the Service Center was read.

It was agreed to send a sum of money to headquarters in memory of Mrs. Virgil Francis.

Busy Bees Club Has Program On 'Mini Gardens'

"Mini Gardens" was the topic of the lesson for the Tuesday meeting of Roundtown Busy Bees Extension Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. Nora Noise, 594 Renick Ave. Mrs. Daniel Eitel was co-hostess.

Mrs. Darrell Hatfield conducted the business meeting which was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States and the club collect.

Plans were made for the Spring All-County Extension meeting to be held April 29.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Way To Play The Game

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a very successful business man. We have two sons who are planning to follow in their father's footsteps. The problem: Our name.

It has been in the newspapers often over the years because someone with the same name as ours has been involved in some terrible scandals. In fact he was found guilty of a crime and served time in a federal penitentiary. Wherever we go we are asked if we are related to this infamous character, because he has a brother who is in the same business as my husband.

We say no, which is true, but it still bothers us. At this stage of my husband's life, he doesn't want to change his name. But what do you think about our sons changing theirs? They love their father and wouldn't want to hurt him, but their lives would be much less complicated if they didn't have to explain that they are not related to "so-and-so."

VICTIMIZED IN N.Y.
DEAR VICTIMIZED: The unfortunate coincidence of having the same name as one who has sullied it is a widely shared experience. However, it carries no real stigma, because intelligent fair minded people judge a man by his own performance. And those who don't, deserve to be ignored.
DEAR ABBY: I am 26, not bad looking, have a college degree, and a very good job. However, I have a serious problem. Due to an accident, I have trouble controlling my bladder. During the daytime I control it by going to the restroom often, but I cannot control it at night.
Because of my bed-wetting, I probably will never marry unless I find a girl who has the same problem. It isn't easy to find such a girl because she probably would never admit it.

How can I meet girls about my age who also wet the bed? If they wrote to you, we could correspond. I promise not to rush into marriage; I would be very cautious and be sure we loved each other first. Thank you.

WANTS TO MARRY
DEAR WANTS: Instead of looking for a girl with the same problem, look for a girl who qualifies in every other way, then deal with the problem later. A possible solution is the wet alarm which awakens you during the night and helps you to keep dry. Another, twin beds.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16 year old girl who is considered quite popular. (I am not bragging but people tell me I am very pretty, and I know I have a good figure.)

My problem is that I DON'T WANT TO damage my reputation which is okay, but it's getting tougher to keep it that way. You see, when a fellow takes me out to show me a good time and spends his hard earned money on me, I feel that I can't turn him down when he wants to park and make out.

I don't go too far, Abby, but afterwards I feel so cheap. Is this wrong when I know when to stop?

CANDY
DEAR CANDY: When a fellow asks you out, all he is entitled to is your company. And unless you want to risk your hard-earned reputation, don't feel obligated to give a fellow his hard-earned money's worth. YOU may know when to stop, but he may insist on calling the signals.

U.S. Executive Still Missing In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The whereabouts of American oil executive Victor Samuelson remained a mystery today despite payment four days ago of a record $14.2 million ransom to Marxist guerrillas for his release.

It was not known if the People's Revolutionary Army (ERP) were still holding the 36-year-old refinery manager from Cleveland, Ohio, or if he had been released and secretly flown abroad.

Officials of Esso Argentina, Samuelson's employer and a subsidiary of Exxon, would say only that they would make no immediate statement when Samuelson was released. They implied the announcement would come from Exxon's New York headquarters.

Police sources said they had no information that he had been freed. There was also no information from Samuelson's wife, who was sent to the United States in mid-January with the couple's three children.

Along with the ransom, Exxon agreed to the guerrillas' demand for an advertisement in 42 local and provincial newspapers saying the ransom returned "super-earnings obtained in Argentina through exploitation of workers."

Only three newspapers printed the advertisement, however, fearing government retaliation for disseminating rebel propaganda. The leftist El Mundo printed the ad twice, and the government closed it indefinitely for "attempting to distribute subversive material." No action was taken against the other two papers.

ERP guerrillas seized Samuelson Dec. 6 while he was eating lunch at the refinery he headed at Campana, 60 miles north of Buenos Aires. Informed sources said a suitcase containing the $14.2-million ransom in $100-bills was delivered Monday at a secret rendezvous.

Gunners Lose Talking Contest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 1,000 gun enthusiasts lost a talking contest with a half dozen Ohio legislators at a marathon hearing on a proposed ban on handguns.

To begin with, only about 160 of the gun fans could get into the House Judiciary Committee hearing room for a session that started at 7:30 p.m. and would end after 3 a.m. the next morning.

But, once inside, the gun fans didn't have a chance when the television cameras began to grind. A half dozen legislators, including one who talked for 40 minutes, used up all the prime time.

There was no apparent reason why the House members had to speak before witnesses who had traveled across the state.

"They're just using this for a campaign forum," fumed a member of the American Rifle Association. "They're all running for re-election this year and they want to make points with their constituents who don't want this legislation."

Rep. Joseph F. Hiestand, R-77 Hillsboro, who spoke for 40 minutes, could not be accused of campaigning. The former national trapshooting champion and gun fancier announced months ago he would not run again.

Rep. Harry Malott, D-87 Mount Orab, probably was motivated by the issue itself. He used a handgun, which the legislation would have banned, to chase a pair of burglars out of his home a month ago. He said it probably saved both his and his wife's lives.

Luther, R-1 Newark, argued against the control bill with statements often used before. They engaged in legislative semantics when Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-16 Shaker Heights, the bill's main sponsor, tried to shoot their arguments full of holes.

The committee eventually killed the Lehman proposal that would have placed the question of a ban against all handguns before the voters. The panel did recommend a bill to outlaw cheap handguns.

The compromise measure moved on to an uncertain fate in the House Rules Committee, which hears no witnesses.

Maybe you couldn't call it a credibility gap, exactly, but when Gov. John J. Gilligan signed into law Ohio's 55-mile-an-hour speed limit, here's what happened:

Gilligan signed the bill as the Western Union clock on the news conference room clicked 10:39 a.m.

"We'll make it 10:45," Gilligan said. And history will record it that way—but it still was only 10:39.

Hollywood Honors Star James Cagney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Cagney came out of a 13-year retirement to accept the tributes of the film world as the man who "sang, danced and machine-gunned his way into our hearts."

Cagney, a movie tough guy and a self-described song-and-dance man for 40 years until his retirement in 1961, Wednesday m night received the second Life Achievement Award of the American Film Institute from its director, George Stevens Jr.

More than 1,000 people attended, including California Gov. Ronald Reagan, another former Warner Bros. contract player who co-starred with Cagney in the 1938 movie "Boy Meets Girl," and many top Hollywood personalities.

The ceremony took place at a dinner at the Century Plaza Hotel. The 90-minute tribute, hosted by Frank Sinatra, will be televised by CBS Monday night.

Cagney, 71, his red hair turned white and looking heavier than his old dancing weight, said: "I am very grateful for this award, but why don't we just say that for now I am merely the custodian for those wonderful guys and gals who worked with me."

As Cagney walked to the podium to accept his award, the orchestra played "Yankee Doodle Dandy" from his 1942 Academy-Award-winning film that won him an Oscar for best actor. The audience stood and clapped along to the music.

In a nostalgia-filled evening that included many clips from his most popular pictures, his friends and former co-stars recalled working with him.

Charlton Heston, chairman of the board of AFI, said Cagney was the "most American of actors, yet he communicated eloquently across the world."

John Wayne said: "You're a great actor, a great citizen and all of us — all of us — love you."

Mae Clarke, who got the grapefruit in the face in the 1931 movie, "Public Enemy," said: "Forty-three years ago, Jim pushed a grapefruit in my face. Since then, I've learned to live with it and love it ... we love you and a really nice guy comes in first."

Glenn Criticizes Nixon Campaign Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Nixon's recommendation for campaign financing reform "will do nothing to return control of the government to the people," says former astronaut John Glenn.

Glenn, in a statement issued Thursday, said Nixon's plan would favor incumbents.

Glenn is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate from Ohio.

Two local volunteers have been qualified as instructor-trainers and CPR instructors for the American Heart Assn. through the local Red Cross chapter. They will retrain instructors and train new ones before the end of 1974.

Hey, the chart only tells part of the story. Don't forget, Duster gives good gas mileage on regular fuel.

It's easy to handle, easy to park and is easy on upkeep. Like the standard Electronic Ignition System that virtually eliminates ignition tune-ups.

Duster's price is nice, too. But let a member of our Chrysler-Plymouth Economy Team tell you all about that. You know who I mean.

ROTARY GUEST—Thursday's guest speaker for the Rotary Club was introduced by the Rev. David Frazier, song leader for the month. The guest speaker, Bill Randles, right, spoke on the forthcoming cable television for the Circleville area.

Rotary Guest Talks Of Cable Television

The guest speaker for the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday was Bill Randles. Randles is with the Circleville Cable Vision Corporation and explained to Rotarians how the company was formed with the help of some local investors.

He advised that hook-up to cable television would cost local residents approximately $6 per month after an initial installation charge of $10. Additional outlets in the home may be available at a reasonable rate. The hook-up to the cable will also make nearly 25 FM stereo stations available to the Circleville residents.

Progress is being made to the point that a station is being built on Earnhart Hill and an office established in the city to handle the business end of the operation. Randles went on to explain to the club members that residents would be able to receive stations from Cincinnati, Columbus, and Cleveland. The additional coverage would bring Canadian and the World Football League into our area.

New movie packages will be available as well as local programming from the schools. Under the terms of franchise awarded, the city will receive three per cent of the gross income from cable television.

Guests at the meeting held at the L-K Restaurant were E. G. Parsons and John Phillips. Rotarians were reminded next week's meeting will be the auction held with the wives at the 4-H and Grange building at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Members were urged to bring articles of value to be auctioned for the benefit of crippled children. Box lunches will also be auctioned and shared by members and their wives.

Armstrong Opens Drive

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Harry L. Armstrong, R-17 Logan, kicked off his campaign for re-election Thursday night at a $20-a-plate dinner that attracted 300 persons.

Armstrong faces one of the toughest Republican primary fights involving legislators.

Among persons honoring Armstrong at the dinner was Senate President Pro Tem Theodore M. Gray, R-4 Columbus.

"The man you're honoring here tonight is one of the greatest fighters I've ever known," Gray said.

Friday was "Harry Armstrong Day" in Logan and Columbus Mayor Tom Moody has declared Friday Armstrong Day in Columbus. At one time, Armstrong represented a portion of Franklin County.

Parents Discuss Head Start Goals

Head Start Number two Center met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Jones, 315 E. Corwin St.

Goals of the program and ways in which the parents can share in the development of the objective were discussed. Refreshments were served followed by an informal rap session, better acquainting those persons present.

A social gathering is scheduled 7 p.m. March 25 at the Jones' residence, 315 E. Corwin St. Every parent is invited.

Redd Foxx Sets Return To Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Redd Foxx says he will return to the television series "Sanford and Son" if NBC corrects conditions that forced him to leave.

Foxx met with network executives this week and said Thursday he was "very pleased with what I heard." He had complained that the show's depiction of black life was inaccurate.

Among other things, the 51-year-old Foxx said he wanted more time to review scripts before filming and wanted the show to move from its junkyard setting occasionally to give a more rounded view of the black community.

"Nobody stays in a junkyard forever," he said.

Youth Held For Cincy Murder

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Police continued to question a 20-year-old Cincinnati man today in connection with the beating death of a 63-year-old cancer victim during a burglary.

The youth was picked up Thursday by homicide detectives. He was being held on old traffic charges.

Robert C. Spraul, 63, of Cincinnati's Price Hill Section, died Tuesday of suffocation as a result of massive head injuries, according to Hamilton County Coroner Dr. Frank Cleveland.

The victim was pistol whipped, handcuffed and his feet were bound, police said. He was unable to cry for help because he had recently undergone a throat operation.

The body was found covered with a blanket under a heavy chair. Police responded after receiving an anonymous telephone call saying a man was badly injured at the address.

The home was ransacked and police said part of Spraul's extensive coin collection was missing.

Spraul had advertised the collection for sale in a local newspaper.

Radio Club Plans Meeting

The Pickaway County Radio Patrol held its regular meeting March 7 in the McDowell Exchange School with Ted Penwell presiding.

Plans for a square dance and patrol runs were discussed. Members were also reminded of the Fire Walk planned by the Saltcreek Township Whistler Volunteer Fire Department 1 p.m. April 21.

New members inducted were: Kenneth Diehl, Brookie Diehl, and Florence Williams. Ted Penwell Jr., was the only guest.

Members present were: Ted Penwell, Charles Barnhart, Thelma Penwell, Paul Mills, Gladys Mills, Opal Barnhart, Joe Barnhart, Paul Wood, Mabel Wood, Wiley Williams, Betty McFarland, Richard Caudill, and William Lanman.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Dairy Industry Indictment Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another in the growing list of Watergate defendants was due in court today for arraignment on a charge he lied to a grand jury about dairy industry money.

A Watergate grand jury indicted Jake Jacobsen, 54, of Austin, Tex., Feb. 24. He was accused of lying to a federal grand jury when he swore he let $10,000 lie in a bank safe deposit box for 2½ years without touching it.

In addition, it was regarded as likely that U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica would rule today on the disposition of the sealed report and satchel of evidence given the judge by the grand jury that investigated the Watergate cover-up.

Sources have said that the report concerns President Nixon's role in Watergate and that the grand jury had asked Sirica to forward it to the House impeachment inquiry.

John J. Wilson, attorney for former presidential aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, has said the grand jury lacked the authority to issue such a report and he asked Sirica to instruct the panel either to indict or do nothing. The White House has issued no recommendation on the report.

Haldeman, Ehrlichman and five other former administration and campaign aides were indicted March 1 on charges that they tried to block the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

The other defendants are former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, former White House special counsel Charles C. Colson, former Assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian, former White House aide Gordon C. Strachan and Kenneth W. Parkinson, former counsel for President Nixon's re-election finance committee.

All have pleaded innocent to all charges against them.

Jacobsen, a former aide to the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, was charged with making a false statement to the grand jury, Jan. 25, 1974. If convicted, Jacobsen could face a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The Jacobsen indictment was returned by a grand jury investigating whether political contributions from the dairy industry influenced an administration decision in March 1971 to raise price supports.

Meanwhile, a lawyer representing Rose Mary Woods, Nixon's secretary, asked the Senate Watergate committee to withdraw a subpoena seeking her testimony under oath.

Attorney Charles S. Rhyne said Miss Woods had been questioned by committee lawyers without taking an oath and then had completed an affidavit attesting to the truthfulness of her answers.

He said additional questioning "would harass Miss Woods without useful purpose."

But Committee Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N. C., rejected the request, saying, "The committee was unanimous in its vote to subpoena Miss Woods and it is necessary for the committee to obtain her full testimony under oath and in executive session."

Food Cost For Family $42 Weekly

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The average American family spends $42 per week on food, up $5 from last year, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

In the East, the figure is highest — $49 — while the rest of the country reports weekly food costs of $40, according to the polling organization.

In 1942, when Gallup first asked about food costs, the weekly average was $11.

The Gallup organization interviewed 1,444 nonfarm families between Feb. 8 and Feb. 18. Splitting the results among income groups, it found that families with incomes of more than $15,000 per year spend an average of $52 a week, while those with incomes less than $5,000 a year spend an average of $29 a week.

Over the past 25 years, Gallup studies have shown food costs to rise slower than other family expenses.

In 1947, food costs made up half the total families spent on necessities. The 1974 survey showed that food accounts for about one-third of the minimum amount families said they need to make ends meet.

Draft Agency Costs Money Even Without Inductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective service costs the government money even when nobody is being selected to serve. And the new, $47 million budget for the standby draft system is under attack in the Senate.

Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., calls the draft agency "this bureaucratic dinosaur," and wants it shut down. That would cost money, too; an estimated $41.5 million in severance pay and other expenses.

In the age of the volunteer armed forces, no men have been drafted into military service in more than 14 months. None can be unless Congress changes the law, because induction authority expired last June 30.

While the draft is dormant, the agency is not. The law requires that Selective Service to continue to register young men.

The law also forbids the agency from spending any of its funds to induct anybody.

In other words, the money can be used to pay the staff, register young men and keep records — as long as none of that leads to military induction.

"This is strictly money for standby," an agency spokesman said. He said the agency would need more funds if it had to go back into the business of drafting men.

In the new budget year, about 1.9 million names are expected to be added to the list of potential draftees.

The agency is scaling down its operation, consolidating some local draft board locations and trimming its payroll by more than 1,200 jobs. Its staff is expected to average 2,869 over the next year.

Selective Service has spent or requested $53.7 million in appropriations for the year that ends June 30.

Director Byron V. Pepitone says the Selective Service pool is "a vital factor in assuring a strong America and the continuation of peace."

Meanwhile, Selective Service holds its major public event of the year Wednesday: the lottery to set draft priorities. It is based on the birth dates of men born in 1955.

Four area high school students are to select capsules of dates and numbers that will set the standby draft list.

The effect of this will be to tell young men turning 19 this year the order in which they will not be drafted.

Mafia Leader Convicted In Drug Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — Reputed Mafia leader Carmine Tramunti and 14 codefendants have been convicted of plotting to operate a drug ring supplying heroin and cocaine to users from here to Washington.

A federal court jury returned the verdict Wednesday after deliberating six days following the seven-week trial.

Conviction could mean maximum 15-year prison sentences and up to $20,000 fines for most of the defendants, but U.S. Atty. Paul Curran has filed a special criminal information against Tramunti and co-defendants Joseph DiNapoli and Frank Pugliese.

Curran wants the three men declared "dangerous drug offenders"—which could double the maximum sentence. Federal Judge Kevin Duffy indicated he would arrange a hearing at a later date.

Tramunti, 64, is already serving a three-year prison sentence for contempt of a Brooklyn grand jury and was recently given a five-year sentence for perjury.

Federal officials described him as the head of the Mafia family once headed by Thomas "Three-Finger Brown" Luchese, and the behind-the-scenes "financier" of the drug ring.

The jury of nine men and three women convicted Tramunti and the 14 co-defendants, but could not make up its mind about a 15th co-defendant, Benjamin Tolopka.

Judge Duffy declared a mistrial in Tolopka's case and set April 22 for sentencing the others.

Most of the defendants live in the New York area, but two Washington men, Henry Salley and Warren C. Robinson, were among those convicted.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

I am particularly incensed by the news that 58 former oil company executives now hold key positions at the Federal Energy Office.

While industry expertise could provide a valuable contribution in our struggle with the energy crisis, letting whole droves of oil executives run the FEO is like allowing the wolf to guard a flock of sheep! And they way they have been handling things down there, it appears this is precisely what is happening.

Yet, a little over a month ago when the personnel roster of the FEO was beginning to first take shape, the House Public Works Subcommittee on Energy held hearings on the availability and allocation of fuel in the United States. As the ranking minority member of the committee, I specifically asked one of the FEO witnesses just how many oil people were running the energy program. Without batting an eye, the Assistant Administrator for Policy Planning at FEO avowed:

"I do not know a single oil executive in our office. We are looking for a few to figure out this distribution system."

Well, it appears they had a few already then—quite a few as a matter of fact: one assistant administrator, two deputy assistant administrators, two acting division directors, two fuel distribution specialists, three economists, two office directors, 16 industrial specialists, three case resolution officers and assorted technical experts and advisers, all with oil company allegiance.

FEO has been quick to point out that with over 2,000 employees, 58 people are but a small percentage. Certainly, they are if you average them in with the errand boys and the strictly clerical workers. However, if you average these same 58 into the decision making executive elite, it is quite another story; it is quite a large chunk as a matter of fact.

It is rather incredible that the witness I questioned did not know this—even one of his fellow assistant administrators in the Policy Planning and Regulation Office was formerly the president of his own oil company.

Fourteen of the 58 hold positions in that office which acts on important matters such as pricing, regulation drafting and general policy questions.

Incidents like this underscore the double talk the Congress and the American public have been getting from the Administration and the oil industry about the energy crisis. It only leads me to believe that they either cannot deal with the American public in a straightforward manner or they are more incompetent than I had previously suspected. Either way, I do not like the looks of it one bit.

This incident also emphasizes the flagrant disregard the FEO has for the Congress. I have yet to receive replies from letters sent months ago to Energy Czar William Simon concerning such critical matters as diesel fuel allocations, runaway gas prices and a number of issues in vital need of immediate attention for the sake of the consumers in the Sixth District and the whole nation. I haven't even received so much as an acknowledgement and many other of my colleagues have met with similar results.

Yet, the FEO has always been quick to respond to the needs of the oil industry with practically any price raise it requests. These higher energy costs, at a time when oil companies are chalking up record profits, have placed a heavy burden on the consumer and have sent shock waves through the gamut of the economy.

Under these circumstances, the close association between the oil industry and FEO workers is much too close. The only policy which they seem to be able to formulate is that what's good for big oil is good for America. It is a dangerously myopic view which fails to focus on the real and urgent needs of all the citizens of the country during this so-called energy crisis.

Unless the consumer is given some sort of relief or due consideration soon, they will find out too late that what is bad for the consumer is also bad for the country.

Girls' Team Ends First Season

By CINDY SIMS

The 1973-74 girls basketball season has just ended. This is the first year Circleville has had a completely organized girls' basketball team and schedule. Both reserve and varsity squads participated.

The two teams were coached by Miss Dee Grandstaff, girls' physical education teacher. Senior Chris Nelson captained the varsity squad, while sophomore Darla Hughes was captain of the reserve team.

The reserve Tigers ended with a record of 3-2. The varsity team was 4-4. The basketball team was a member of the new girls' South Central Ohio League. The league is also setting up girls' softball teams for interested SCOL schools.

Miss Dee Grandstaff says she encourages girls to come out for softball, which begins the first of April.

Miss Grandstaff stated, "The toughest team in the league was Miami Trace." She said, "Our basketball program worked out very well. I would like to thank everyone who came out and cheered for us. I hope we have as much support during softball."

Preschoolers Studied In Home Ec Class

By RONI KEISER

Coming to school is quite and experience for children who have not attended elementary school yet and coming to the high school is even a bigger experience.

The Home Economics II class brought preschool children to the classroom to observe and learn about child development last Thursday.

The reactions of the children were quite typical. Some enjoyed the visit, some were quite frightened, and some took advantage of the refreshments. Sophomore Carol Davis commented, "It was a good experience to see how long it takes the children to come out of their shyness and also how they get along with other children."

The girls baked cookies for the children and served refreshments. They also played games and talked with the preschoolers.

When the visit was over the children's parents came to get them. "It was a very good experience for the girls as well as for the children," said Miss Nancy Shelton, Home Economics II teacher.

Slave Days Planned To Raise Money

By JOHN DOWLER

The cost of the band's trip to the Indianapolis 500 this May will be approximately $3500.

In order to raise some of this money, the band is planning "Slave Days."

On "slave days" anyone who has a job that needs to be done—preparing a garden, trimming shrubs, cleaning garages, painting, or doing any small jobs—may hire one bandsman or a group of bandsmen to help him with the job. A donation can be given to the band, depending on the size of the job.

The official title will be "Work-in Days for the Tiger Band." The bandsmen will be for "Hire" on March 23 and 30.

People who wish for any assistance in jobs should contact Mr. Gary Dean or Mrs. Candy Rigo in care of Circleville High School, 380 Clark Drive.

Bowl Team Places In League

The CHS Olympian Councils Mythology Bowl team placed in the top six teams at the 24th Annual Ohio Junior Classical League Convention, held this past weekend in Columbus.

The team made it to the semi-finals, which consisted of 6 of the 34 original participating teams. The CHS team was defeated, along with two other teams.

John Dowler, president of the Olympian Council or Latin Club, stated, "Our team was up against a lot of tough teams. This was our first time to enter, and I feel this is a fine showing of our ability and school spirit."

The members of the CHS team were junior Beth Bushee, senior Sue Heffelfinger, senior Bill Houston, and freshman Dan Smith. The alternates were junior Amy Curtiss and senior John Dowler. Sandra Rector, Mrs. Dean Bushee, and Mrs. Eugene Dowler also attended.

By TAMMY MILLER

Senior DECA student Brad Jones was awarded honorable mention in Parliamentary Law at the State DECA contest held last weekend at the Columbus Sheraton. This ranks Brad as fourth among the 52 students who competed in this area.

Brad resides at 206 Cedar Heights Road with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones. At the National DECA Leadership Conference, which will be held April 28 through May 1 in Chicago, Brad will compete against DECA students from Puerto Rico, as well as from all 50 states.

A Chapter Membership award was given to CHS Senior DECA for their 11 per cent student involvement, increased occupational competencies, personal growth and leadership development.

In the past seven years with Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood as coordinator, CHS has sent four state first place winners on to national DECA competition. In both 1967 and 1969 Miss Ohio DECA, Melissa Willoughby and Sandy Tracy, respectively, came from Circleville High School. In 1968 Fred Wagner won the Mathematics of Distribution contest. In 1972 Debbie Dumm was first in the area of Radio Advertising.

Other DECA students competing in the state contest this year were seniors Debbie Snyder, Ruth Garner, Becky Dountz, Cathy Arledge, Cindy Corne, Bill Salyers, John Clifton, and Tony Betts. Juniors attending were Sharon Snyder, Anita Stevens, Beth Blaney, and David Rossiter.

CHS Sends 21 To Musical Competition

By RICK BUMGARNER

CHS sent 21 music students to the District XIII Solo and Ensemble competition at Columbus West High School last Saturday.

The performers were judged as I, a superior performance; II, an excellent performance; III, a good performance; IV, a fair performance; and V, a poor performance.

Receiving a I rating were vocal soloist Sue Heffelfinger, "Un Bel Di"; oboe soloist Gloria Alvarez, "La Village"; and French horn soloist Donna Milburn, "Walton's Prize Song."

Ratings of II were received by vocal soloist Bret Patrick, "Come Ye Blessed"; piano soloist Cathy Wellman, "Viennese Sonatina No. 1"; piano soloist Cheryl Neff, "Claire de Lune"; piano and clarinet soloist Sue Milburn, "Claire de Lune" (piano) and "Sonata in F Minor" (clarinet); piano soloist Donna Milburn, "Gollywogg's Cake Walk"; clarinet quartet, "Caprice for Clarinet"; brass trio, "Sonata for Seven-Part Brass Choir"; trumpet trio, "Chiquita"; trumpet soloist Kirk Knecht, "Andante et Scherzo"; and baritone soloist Jodi Linn, "Morceau de Concours."

Others receiving ratings of III or IV were vocal soloist Robin Halley, "Stopping by the Woods"; piano soloist John Neff, "Fur Elise"; piano soloist Audrey May, "Sonata Op. 49"; piano soloist Meri Wood, "Prelude I and II"; flute soloist Susan Herel, "Suite in A Minor"; and trumpet soloist Tim Brown, "Concerto."

More than 150 adult volunteers of Pickaway County Red Cross involve themselves with service to Berger and VA Hospitals, chapter house, Bloodmobile, clinics, nursing homes, private homes and motor service.

Teacher Finds Job Rewarding

MISS ELAINE JUDY

By ROBIN MARTIN

"I like teaching in Circleville very much. The staff and the students are very cooperative and make my job very rewarding," are the comments of Miss Elaine Judy, a new fourth grade teacher at Nicholas Drive Elementary. Miss Judy resides at Route 4.

She attended Ohio University where she earned a bachelor of science degree in elementary education.

Before coming to Circleville, she taught in the Logan Elm School District for two and one-half years.

When asked her teaching philosophy, Miss Judy stated, "I feel that each child can succeed at something. My main goal is to help each child succeed as much as possible and to enjoy the learning processes."

Miss Judy pointed out that she came to Circleville because she liked several of the curriculum programs, especially the reading program that Circleville uses.

She is a member of the Saltcreek Valley Grange, Tarlton United Methodist Church, Ohio Education Association, Central Ohio Teacher's Association and Circleville Education Association.

She listed sewing as her main hobby, but she said she also enjoys music and reading.

UCLA Outlasts Dayton, 111-100

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The perils of the NCAA basketball playoffs continue Saturday with another episode after a cliff-hanging escape by UCLA and the end of the serial for Notre Dame.

Faced by sudden-death extinction, UCLA's proud defending champions put down stubborn Dayton 111-100 in triple overtime Thursday night in a pressurized West regional semifinal game.

Notre Dame wasn't so lucky, though. Michigan took the fight out of the Fighting Irish with a shocking 77-68 victory over the nation's second-ranked team.

Top-ranked North Carolina State,

meanwhile, kept no one on the edge of his seat with an unimpressive, 92-78 rout of Providence in the East.

These results, among others, set up the regional finals.

UCLA will play San Francisco, which defeated New Mexico 64-61 in the less dramatic second game of that West doubleheader at Tucson, Ariz. Michigan's stunning victory earned the Wolverines a berth in the Midwest finals against Marquette, a 69-61 victor over Vanderbilt in the other Midwest game at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

North Carolina State will play the East finals against Pittsburgh, which trimmed Furman 81-78 at Raleigh, N. C.

Oral Roberts and Kansas advanced to the finals of the Midwest. Oral Roberts defeated Louisville 96-93 and Kansas rallied for a 55-54 decision over Creighton in Thursday night's semifinals at Tulsa, Okla.

The best action of the night by far was the UCLA-Dayton game, an affair with all the elements of a movie thriller.

The Bruins, nine-time winners of the national championship in the last 10 years, were heavy favorites over the Flyers. And it looked like things were going to go that way, with UCLA holding a 17-point lead at one time.

But the Flyers rallied behind Mike Sylvester and Don Smith to tie the game at 80 at the end of regulation time. The score was also tied at the end of the first and second overtimes, at 88 and 98.

Then Bill Walton, UCLA's outstanding center, scored five points in the third overtime to pull it out. The Flyers couldn't run with the deep Bruins at this point and were only able to score two points to UCLA's 13 in the third extra period.

Howard Smith scored 16 points and Kevin Restani added 14 for San Francisco. The Dons grabbed the lead for good midway through the second half with eight straight points, four by Restani.

Campy Russell scored 36 points and collected 18 rebounds to trigger Michigan's upset of Notre Dame. Russell took charge of the rebounding early and Wayman Britt scored 12 points as the Wolverines bolted to a 28-8 lead over the stunned Irish.

Notre Dame later came back behind John Shumate, who scored 34 points overall, but buckled under Russell's bullseye shooting later in the second half.

Marquette put down a late rally by Vanderbilt, which had thrived on comeback victories all year. Two shots by Bo Ellis and one by Ed Daniels in a sixpoint streak with three minutes left killed the Commodores' comeback hopes.

David Thompson connected for 40 points to lead North Carolina State's big victory over Providence.

Bill Knight scored 34 points, 22 of them in the second half, to lead Pittsburgh past Furman. Lew Hill and Kirk Bruce added 12 points apiece to the Pitt offense.

Sam McCants fired in 30 points to lead Oral Roberts past Louisville. Trailing most of the game, Kansas rallied in the final four minutes behind Tommy Smith to defeat Creighton.

Flyers Top Blues 4-2 In NHL Clash

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Believe it or not, there are times when hockey players have other things on their minds than the outcome of the game they're playing.

Thursday night, the St. Louis Blues and Philadelphia Flyers were locked in a close National Hockey League contest, but Flyers wing Dave Kelly's thoughts were elsewhere ... New York for instance.

"It was such a boring game, the only exciting thing was the scoreboard," Kelly said after the Flyers' 4-2 victory.

The news from New York was that the Chicago Black Hawks defeated the Rangers 5-2 to remain within eight points of the West Division-leading Flyers.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the Boston Bruins edged the Buffalo Sabres 4-3 and the Toronto Maple Leafs topped the New York Islanders 2-1.

Bobby Clarke, Bill Flett, Tom Bladon and Andre Dupont backed Flyers goalie Bernie Parent's 40th victory of the season — just four short of the NHL record.

In the World Hockey Association, the Chicago Cougars defeated the Minnesota Fighting Saints 7-4; the Houston Aeros blanked the Los Angeles Sharks 6-0; the Quebec Nordiques edged the Toronto Toros 3-2, and the New England Whalers dropped the Vancouver Blazers 6-3.

LE Cage Banquet Set

The Logan Elm School district basketball banquet will be held beginning 5:30 p.m. Saturday in the McDowell Building.

The Banquet will honor seventh and eighth grade teams at Laurelville and McDowell, the Logan Elm ninth grade, reserve and varsity basketball teams and all coaches, cheerleaders, managers and other basketball workers.

It will be a carryin supper with rolls and beverages furnished by the Logan Elm Boosters.

NIT Thought Better Than NCAA Tourney

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Senior Lloyd Batts, No. 4 alltime leading scorer at the University of Cincinnati—1,568 points—said he believes the National Invitation Tournament will be better than the NCAA.

"I think the NIT will be more competitive," said the 6-foot-5 senior forward.

"Anyone can win the NIT, but UCLA is the big favorite in the NCAA.

"Our chances are just as good as the No. 1 pick (North Carolina)."

Kentucky State Advances In NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kentucky State thinks it's on the threshold of becoming the first team ever to win the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball championship four times.

The second-seeded Thorobreds, who had to display class to overcome Midwestern of Texas 80-74 Thursday night, hope to jump another hurdle tonight in a semifinal battle with No. 14 West Georgia.

The other semifinal contest and the night's curtain raiser sends No. 16 St. Mary's of Texas against No. 4 Alcorn A&M.

West Georgia advanced by whipping Indiana of Pennsylvania 103-69, marking the third game in as many appearances in this 37th annual tournament the Braves have broken the 100 point mark.

St. Mary's downed No. 8 Augustana of Illinois 74-65 in the quarter-finals, and Alcorn A&M edged Hanover of Indiana 107-102 in a double overtime cliffhanger.

Freshman Gerald Cunningham, who kept the Thorobreds in the game with Midwestern with a 24-point first half, finished with 30. Kentucky State, behind six points at the half, finally went ahead on Cunningham's basket with 11 minutes, 23 seconds left and once led by 13 points.

Clarence Walker and Tom Turner found the range often in the early stages and helped West Georgia pile up a 63-28 halftime lead over the outclassed Pennsylvanians. Walker got 20 his 24 points in the first half. Turner finished with 20.

Dennis Carter was the clutch man in St. Mary's triumph. When the Vikings trailed by only three points with 2:58 left, Carter, who wound up with 26 points, hit a free throw and three field goals. Gary Tomaszewski added 20 more.

Alcorn A&M blew a 10-point lead in the second half against Hanover and finally won on William Bell's three-point play and Nathaniel Archibald's six consecutive points in the second extra period. Bell made 29 points.

Dennis Laker and Jeff Jay paced Hanover with 30 and 28 points, respectively.

Toledo Stops Arizona State In CCA Tournament, 81-74

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "They were bumping, but we've been bumped more by Michigan, Marquette and South Carolina," the coach of Toledo University's Rockets said.

Arizona State's Sun Devils attempted to outmuscle the Rockets Thursday night and came off on the short end of an 81-74 score in the Collegiate Commissioners Association basketball tourney.

The upset advanced Toledo, 19-8, to Sunday's semifinals of the tournament along with 15th-ranked Southern Cal, which disposed of Southern Methodist 82-70.

Filling the other berths in the semifinals will be winners of games tonight between 10th-ranked Indiana, 20-5, and Tennessee, 17-8, which meet in an opener, and Kansas State, 19-7, and Bradley, 19-7, who vie in the nightcap.

"It's sort of like playing tackle — the more you get hit the better you get at it," explained Toledo Coach Bob Nichols, whose Rockets gave away size but not guile to Arizona State.

Tigers 9th At Newark Invitational

Circleville's track team opened the indoor season Thursday night in the 10-team Newark Indoor Invitational at Denison University.

The Tigers were the only AA school running against some of the top AAA teams in the area.

Circleville tallied 4½ points to place ninth in the meet.

Upper Arlington captured the event with 58 points, Lancaster had 49, Gahanna 29, Newark 26, Mt. Vernon 14, West Carrollton 10½, Hilliard 10, Brookhaven 6, Circleville 4½ and Groveport tallied 1.

Placing for Circleville were: Frank Plescia, fourth in high jump, 6 feet; mile relay team, Robin Martin, Mike McCoy, Doug Radabaugh and John Ankrom, fourth, 3:55.3; Doug Radabaugh, tie for fifth in pole vault, 11 feet; Reggie Radcliff, sixth, pole vault; Robin Martin, sixth in 440; and the 8-lap relay team, Tim Strawser, Scott Simpson, Wade Camp and Rick Sampill, sixth.

Circleville will compete in the Central District Indoor Preliminaries 4 p.m. Monday at French Fieldhouse at Ohio State University. The meet finals will be 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY

Anyone who attended any of the high school basketball games this past season knows what fine fans we have in Pickaway County.

Whenever any of our teams played, the local following didn't take a back seat to anyone in attendance or vocal encouragement. If the teams were on the road, a caravan of faithful rooters could be seen leaving Pickaway County to back their boys in their efforts on the hardwoods.

In our travels this past season, we always found the local gallery filled to capacity and the rafters ringing with riotous, raucous shouts as the fans cheered the local heroes on to greater heights.

In case anyone might think that this is not appreciated by the boys, we would like to print a letter we received from the Teays Valley cagers and cheerleaders.

Here is the complete letter we received:

To the Editor:

We, the members of the Teays Valley basketball team, would like to express our appreciation for the support of our loyal fans throughout the past season. Whether we played at home or away, we knew we could count on you to be there, cheering us on.

We would also like to thank Mr. McGaffney of The Circleville Herald and P. J. of WNRE for their coverage of our games.

With the help and support of our school administrators, teachers, Coach Hoover and especially the fans, this has been a good year for us and with your continued support next year, we hope to do even better.

The Teays Valley Vikings

George Spohn, Chuck Glitt, Lee Stiles, Jay Brinker, Kevin Pettibone, Rick Peters, Craig Pontius, Jeff Anderson, Dave Glick, Steve Gregory, Terry Lambert, Terry Collins, Dan Brinker, Jim Logsdon, Lori Stewart, Brenda Brinker, Susie Glitt, Kathy Hoffman, Kim Glick, Pam Younkin and Jeri Voss.

It was all summed up when "our Jerry" read the letter and commented, "It's things like this that makes even climbing the ladder at Grove City worthwhile."

Our "fearless" forecast—The Irishman, John Mahaffey, will be counting plenty of green on St. Patrick's Day in the Greater Jacksonville Open.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Missouri Faces Morgan In NCAA Tilt

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Southwest Missouri meets Morgan State in a battle of veteran versus newcomer tonight for the NCAA College Division basketball championship.

Southwest, 21-8 and ranked No. 14, made the tourney's title round for the fourth time by beating New Orleans 68-63 Thursday night. The Missouri club was runnerup in 1959, 1967 and 1969.

No. 2 Morgan State, 27-5, making its first appearance in the finals, edged Assumption 73-70 as 7-foot Marvin Webster sank 29 points, grabbed 22 rebounds and connected on two crucial free throws with 28 seconds left.

The championship game begins at 9 p.m., CDT. Assumption, 21-7, and No. 15 New Orleans, 21-8, play a consolation match starting at 7 p.m.

Daryel Garrison scored 21 points for Southwest to lead both teams. The Privateers closed to within two points at 61-59 with just under four minutes left, but Southwest hit five straight points in two minutes to sew it up.

Wilbur Holland topped New Orleans with 18 points.

Assumption moved in front of Morgan State for the first time when Jeff Scott's layup went through with 9:45 to play. The score was 51-50. There were four ties and the lead changed three times before the Bears went ahead for good on baskets by Pat Edwards and Ivan Young.

Designated Hitters Tried

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The National League has been conducting cautious experiments with the designated hitter rule this spring and the Atlanta Braves, for one, are pleased with the results.

The Braves nominated Jack Pierce as their DH Thursday against the New York Yankees and Pierce responded with three base hits in Atlanta's 3-2, 12-inning exhibition victory.

Pierce doubled and scored in the eighth inning and did the same thing in the 12th, bringing home the winning run on a single by John Oates. Mike Hegan drove in both New York runs with a single in the third.

The Braves were able to use a DH because the game was played at the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home of the American League Yanks.

In other exhibition games, Baltimore routed Texas 12-3; Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 3-0; the Chicago White Sox shaded Philadelphia 6-5; Milwaukee dumped the Chicago Cubs 10-6; Boston defeated Houston 8-2; Pittsburgh trimmed Kansas City 7-1; the New York Mets edged Detroit 3-2; California stopped Cleveland 7-6; San Francisco beat San Diego 7-4; and Minnesota's split squad lost twice, bowing to Cincinnati 6-4 and Montreal 7-5.

Baltimore pounded Texas pitching for 18 base hits, three by Don Baylor. Jim Palmer pitched four scoreless innings for the Orioles.

Tommy John hurled five innings of no-hit ball for Los Angeles. Steve Garvey was the Dodger offensive star with two hits and two runs-batted-in. Ken Henderson's three-run homer in the ninth inning lifted the White Sox past Philadelphia. Henderson's blow

Gullett, Reds Defeat Twins In 6-4 Clash

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Cincinnati Reds Manager Sparky Anderson predicted pitcher Don Gullett will be a 20-game winner for the next seven or eight years.

"He's on the verge of becoming a 20-game winner every year," Anderson said after Gullett gave up only two hits to the Minnesota Twins Thursday as the Reds won 6-4 in exhibition.

Gullett, 18-8 last year, developed a fork ball for an offspeed pitch after limping 9-10 through 1972 battling hepatitis.

"I learned a lot last year," said the 23-year-old pitcher.

"I learned what an off-speed pitch can do for you. I want to get in shape and be ready to throw all my pitches. If I do that and if I avoid injuries, I'll win my share," he said.

Roger Nelson, out all last year with elbow problems, gave up only one hit in four innings of relief hurling before the Twins tagged Pat Darcy for four runs in the ninth.

Minnesota's Ray Corbin gave up no hits in four innings and the Reds remained hitless until the seventh. Ed Armbrister walked, went to second on a balk and stole third.

He scored on Dan Driessen's infield hit to loser Jim Hughes.

came off reliever Frank Linzy and capped a four-run Chicago rally.

Milwaukee collected 18 base hits, including a two-run homer by Ron Ellis and a three-run double by Don Money. Bill Madlock had three hits for Chicago to extend his hitting streak to seven games. He is hitting .630 this spring.

Reggie Cleveland hurled five scoreless innings and Carlton Fisk belted a pair of homers for Boston. The Red Sox have won six of seven games.

Dave Parker homered, singled and drove in three runs for Pittsburgh. Pirate hurlers Jerry Reuss, Bob Moose and Dave Guisti combined on a four-hitter.

Felix Millan's two-out single in the seventh gave the Mets the decisive run against Detroit. Rookie outfielder Benny Ayala homered for New York.

Denny Doyle doubled home the winning run in the bottom of the ninth in California's triumph. Catcher Charlie Sands had four hits for the Angels, including a three-run homer.

Jimmy Howarth's tie-breaking single in the ninth inning led San Francisco past San Diego. Dave Winfield had a two-run homer for the Padres and the teams finished with 15 hits apiece.

Ken Griffey keyed a four-run Cincinnati rally in the eighth with a two-run single against Minnesota. The Twins second team was dumped by Montreal's Terry Humphrey who drove in five runs with a pair of homers.

HUSKY MUSKIE—Gary Hoffman of Circleville holds a 17-pound 2-ounce, 36-inch muskie which he caught in the tail waters of Deer Creek Dam.

Canton McKinley Reaches Finals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No. 1-ranked Canton McKinley, trying again to shed its bridesmaid role, advanced to the high school Class AAA regional basketball finals at Canton with a 53-49 triumph over Akron Kenmore Thursday night.

The Bulldogs, playing in their 23rd regional, meet Boardman (22-1) in the championship game Saturday for the right to go on to the state tournament next week.

Although almost always a powerhouse in the big school ranks, McKinley has never won a state championship. It has reached the state semifinals 13 times and has been runnerup six times.

In Class A action at Dayton, defending state champion Marion Pleasant rolled over New Albany 66-47 and Pittsburg Franklin-Monroe downed Cincinnati St. Bernard 74-62 to set up a rematch Saturday night of last year's regional title game.

Continental defeated Napoleon Edon 76-61 in the Bowling Green Class A regional and advanced to a cham-

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Billie Jean King leads the list of professional women tennis players who will be vying for the $10,000 top prize in the Akron Tennis Open.

The tournament rounds start Monday afternoon at the University of Akron's Memorial Hall and continue through Sunday. Thirty-two players will be seeded in the tournament, which will dispense a total of $50,000 in prize money.

pionship game with Mount Blanchard Riverdale Saturday.

Canton McKinley kept its record unblemished in 24 games after holding off a late Kenmore rally by shutting out the opponents in the last 2½ minutes of play.

Senior Stan Hall, who led all scorers with 18 points, clinched the victory for the Bulldogs with a layup with 15 seconds left to play.

Mahaffey, Harris Tie In Golf Tilt

JACKSONVILLE, FLA. (AP)—John Mahaffey a baby-faced 25-year-old but one of the most intense competitors on the pro golf tour, spent the last two weeks at home in Houston, practicing a little but mostly fuming and fussing. Because he had a mild case of the flu, his doctor advised against competing, but John wanted to get back at it.

"I like the competition out here," he said. "Most of my friends are out here — Hubert Green, Tom Watson, Ben Crenshaw."

So he celebrated his return to competition Thursday with a four-under-par 68 and a tie with big Labron Harris for the first round lead in the $150,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

"It feels good to be back, good to be playing again," said Mahaffey, who used some remarkable sand play — he was in four bunkers and played those four holes one under par — to take his share of the lead.

He and Harris, a 6-foot-4 veteran of 10 years on the tour, shared a one-shot advantage over Leonard Thompson, the easy-going winner of the Jackie Gleason tournament three weeks ago, and longshot Steve Spray tied at 69.

They were the only ones in the bulky field of 156 able to get into the 60s on the Deerwood Country Club course, a lake-dotted, pine-studded layout that played even longer than its 7,088 yards because of the chill temperatures and a gusty, tricky, swirling wind.

Knicks Top Warriors

OAKLAND (AP) — The Knickerbockers from far-off New York have made the National Basketball Association's Pacific Division race what it is today.

"The Warriors and Lakers are both great teams. It should be a great battle down the stretch," Knicks' Coach Red Holzman said Thursday night after his team's 107-95 victory over the Golden State Warriors in the only NBA game played.

The San Antonio Spurs beat the Virginia Squires 105-90 in the only American Basketball Association game scheduled Thursday night.

The Knicks lost to Los Angeles Tuesday night, and the Lakers take a one-game lead into their game in Los Angeles tonight against Golden State. The Pacific contenders will meet here Saturday night.

Rugged Knicks forward Dave DeBusschere was the game's individual standout, with 30 points and 11 rebounds. Second year guard Dean Meminger scored 23 points for the winners and Walt Frazier added 20.

The Knicks are second in the Atlantic Division and are sure of a playoff berth. DeBusschere will probably get more rest tonight when the Knicks play in Portland.

PUBLIC AUCTION

OF 186.69 ACRES

DEVELOPMENT LAND - ZONED COM-

MERCIAL

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1974

Beginning at 2:00 P.M.

SALE TO BE HELD ON THE PREMISES

Located 8 miles south of Circleville; 8 miles north of

Chillicothe; 35 miles south of Columbus in Pickaway Twp.,

Pickaway County, Ohio.

REAL ESTATE

This 186.69 acres is in an area that is rapidly developing commercially, industrially and residentially, ideally located within a short driving distance of Columbus and due to it's gently rolling terrain it could easily be developed into an area of exclusive homes with shopping center. Also would lend itself agriculturally for a horse or cattle farm. Property

has approximately 2600 feet of road frontage on U.S. 23,

which is the main highway between Toledo, Columbus and Portsmouth. Also located on the property is a 14 in. drilled well which is 141 feet deep and has a total capacity

available between 1400 GPM and 1500 GPM; an underground main which is approximately 1430 feet long with 5 risers and is of 8 in. transite and a large storage barn with feeding area. There are several soil types in the 186.69 acres but predominately Fox Loam and Kendalville Silt Loam.

TERMS OF SALE: Farm is sold subject to all zoning, government regulations, easement of record and legal highways. A deposit of $10,000.00 will be required at time of sale, balance of purchase price due upon delivery of deed on or before April 22, 1974.

INSPECTION: For further information or inspection contact
Roger E. Wilson, phone 852-1181 or Richard Warren of Cole
Nursery.

Sellers reserve the right to accept or reject any and all bids.
